

COLLEGE PERFORMERS—The Three D's will present "Rhyme, Rhythm and Reason in Dimension" today in the Men's Gym at 11 a.m. The three, left to right, are Denis Sorenson, Dick Davis and Duane Hiatt. The group started singing together in 1960 at Brigham Young University in Utah. Since then, they have performed at colleges and universities throughout the country.

3 D's Not So Bad For Valley Students

By ALANE LEWIS
Club Editor

The 3 D's will appear at 11 a.m. in the Men's Gym today in the semester's first all-college assembly.

Providing their own accompaniment, the 3 D's will present "Rhyme, Rhythm and Reason in Dimension." Constantly adding to their repertoire of more than 100 songs and comedy routines, their concert will feature the thoughts and words of great men set to rhythm.

The 3 D's also feature in their concerts, pop, folk and semi-classical music. Their brand of comedy ranges from subtle commentary to a semi-slapstick known as "Casey at the Bat."

'Like Kinstron Trio'

"This will be a show well worth seeing," said Keith Kintner, commissioner of social activities. "The 3 D's are a rising young group comparable to the Kingston Trio. They have been big successes at other colleges, and I am sure they will be there too."

Formed in 1960 by a chance meeting around a campfire in the Utah mountains, the three, Dick Davis, Denis Sorenson and Duane Hiatt, continued singing together at Brigham Young University until they were graduated.

After the three developed their own show and comedy routines, wrote the music and words for their own arrangements, the group signed with

Capitol records, after turning down several other recording contracts and offers.

Won Acting Scholarship

This past year they have performed at many universities, including Stanford, the University of California, Colorado State University, Utah State University, the Universities of Idaho, Texas and Nevada, Oregon State, Whitman, Franklin College, Whitworth and others.

Spokesman for the group is Duane Hiatt. A lead tenor, he also plays the guitar.

Naturally, the shortest member of the group, Denis Sorenson, 5 feet, 6 inches, plays the biggest instruments, the bass and the piano.

Arranger for the group is Dick Davis. Davis won an acting scholarship to BYU, but later changed his major to speech and hearing therapy. He plays the guitar, banjo, trumpet and the conga drums.

To Perform 'Jabberwocky'

Likely to be presented today by the group will be selections from their first album, "New Dimensions in Folk Songs" on Capitol records. Selections such as "Charge of the Light Brigade" or "Jabberwocky" by Lewis Carroll or dream of the beautiful "Annabel Lee" will be heard.

Reaction to their first album resulted in having them called one of the most creative and original groups in years.

State Controller To Speak Tuesday

By CAROLYN BELL
Staff Writer

California State Controller Alan Cranston will be on campus Tuesday, Feb. 15, at 11 a.m. in the Quad. Sponsored by the International Club, he will speak to students and faculty about the Peace Corps work in Ghana.

Cranston's own work has made him known throughout the nation, as a government executive, successful businessman, author, journalist and political leader.

During the 1930's, Cranston was a correspondent for the International News Service and traveled through Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany during WW II, disclosing firsthand details on the plots of Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler. Early in 1939, his publication in America of what "Mein Kampf" really proclaimed sold 500 copies, until the courts ruled that it violated Hitler's copyright.

Office Reforms

Another of Cranston's books, "The Killing of the Peace," achieved the New York Times' 10 best books of the year list in 1945 and has recently been republished by the Viking Press. The book concerns the United States' fight over the League of Nations.

During postwar years, Cranston operated a real estate investment and property management business, while devoting his extracurricular time to mobilizing support for the United Nations and to the Democratic Party.

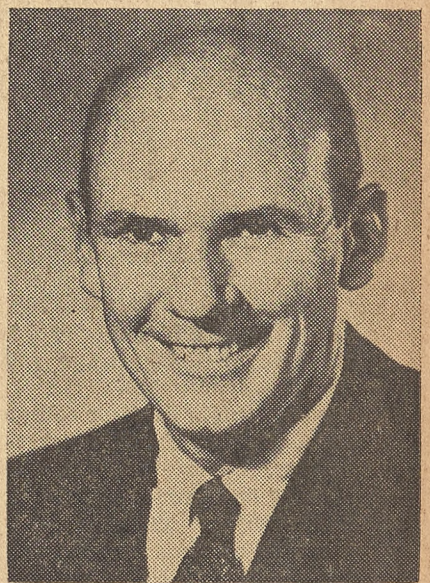

Cranston was elected State Controller in 1958 and thus became the first Democrat to occupy the office in 75 years. Four years later, he was re-elected. As Controller for seven years, he instituted a number of reforms involving multi-million dollar savings, among them the improvement of modern office methods, such as automatic data processing. Though workload has increased about eight percent annually, the office budget and number of employees have remained constant.

Stanford Graduate

In 1964 Cranston missed becoming the Democratic nominee for the United States Senate after a close race with Pierre Salinger.

Cranston was born and raised in Palo Alto, Calif., and was graduated from Stanford University, where he was a 440-yard sprinter. His best time of 48 seconds flat in the 30's is still recorded today.

Cranston, his wife Geneva, and their teen-aged sons, Robin and Kim, reside in Sacramento on a seven-acre farm.

Alan Cranston

CAR POOL

In future editions of the Star this space will be donated as a school service for students interested in participating in car pools. Because of the enlarged enrollment of Valley students and the limited amount of parking spaces it is suggested, by the Star, that persons interested in initiating a program list the particulars of time and locations that their cars will be made available and deliver them to BJ114 for publication.

AMS To Schedule Variety of Events

The Associated Men Students have planned many events for the spring semester. There are two major events which will highlight the semester during the month of March.

March 11, the Southern California Junior College Associated Men Students conference will be hosted by Valley. The conference will consist of 35 junior colleges throughout Southern California. Officers for the conference will include Larry Klein, president of AMS at Valley, will preside over the conference; Ray Schauben, first vice-president of AMS, will act as executive vice-president of the conference; Ted Rulf, a member of Scabo-Ritus, will be in charge of internal affairs at the conference and John Kuacle, a student at Pierce College, will act as treasurer for the conference.

Another coming event in March will be a carnival. The festivities will begin March 25 and continue through the 27th. The carnival will feature different rides and attractions. According to Klein, "This carnival is very similar to the Mardi Gras held at UCLA."

A program of guest speakers will also be included in this semester's schedule. One topic of discussion will be the "Proper etiquette and social sexual graces." This series will be opened to male students only.

Students who are interested in more information concerning the AMS conference or reserving a booth at the carnival should contact Larry Klein in B34.

Draft Will Hit Men in June

"Impact of the draft on the student body of Valley College probably won't be felt too severely until June," Dr. John Reiter, dean of admissions and guidance, said Tuesday.

At that time many of those students who have been given classification 2-S may well be taken, Reiter said, since such a classification was probably based on a one-month extension.

Conflicting statements appearing in the daily press, even from the office of Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national Selective Service director, caused students concern, as reflected in the number of inquiries at the desk of the veterans' coordinator in the Administration Building.

Normal Progress

"According to the best information Valley College now has," said Reiter, "the draft board is still continuing deferments to students making normal progress."

It's that term, "normal progress," that has confused many students, says Reiter.

"We understand that the draft boards are interpreting normal progress to mean completion of the first two years of college, say, within two calendar years after graduation from high school," Reiter said.

Deferment Questions

A question and answer sheet available at the veterans' desk says, "For deferment purposes 12 units is considered a full load. However, the local draft boards are expecting you to make normal progress towards a degree (60 units in two years)."

This means, Reiter said, that a student who is taking only 12 units "should plan on taking six additional units in the coming summer session if he wishes to maintain the normal progress that is demanded."

Reiter laid great emphasis on the fact that the college does not do the deferring; it only does the job of certifying the man's status as a student.

File 109 Form

Mrs. Jean Pfeuger, the clerk for the veterans' desk who sees the most students, said that many students have "drafted themselves" by failing to file a 109 Form after being reclassified by the draft board. It is this form that requests a deferment—the college does not file it and it is not done automatically, it was pointed out.

A student making normal progress who has been reclassified, should do two things: (1) check to see that he has filed a 109 Form this school year, and (2) fill out a questionnaire for the local draft board.

VALLEY STAR

LOS ANGELES VALLEY COLLEGE

Vol. XVII, No. 17

Van Nuys, California

Thursday, February 10, 1966

Chambers Opposes Nazi-Red Speakers

J. C. Chambers of the L.A. Board of Education will discuss the topic, "Invite Nazis and Communists to Speak on College Campuses? No!" this morning at 11 a.m. in the Quad as a rebuttal to last week's speaker, Dr. Eason Monroe.

Added to his duties as a Board member, Chambers is experienced in business and industry. Among other activities, he is currently the principal in a group of management consultants who administrate surveys in industry and education. He is also a member of the Business Consultants Committee of the L.A. Chamber of Commerce.

He has resided in Los Angeles for the past 20 years, but originally came from Illinois where he received most of his education. He attended Washington University and supplemented his education with extension and special research programs.

Invite Speakers

Last week Dr. Monroe, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union in Southern California, spoke on the affirmative side of the question.

He listed educational, political and constitutional reasons for allowing people with controversial status to be invited to speak on college campuses.

"Educationally, the students have a right to hear all sides of an issue in order to make judgements for themselves," Dr. Monroe said. "The door needs opening not so much for the speakers' function but for the student's benefit." College students, the speaker asserted, should hear how the guests defend their views and draw their own conclusions from them. He said, "Free speech is an integral part of education."

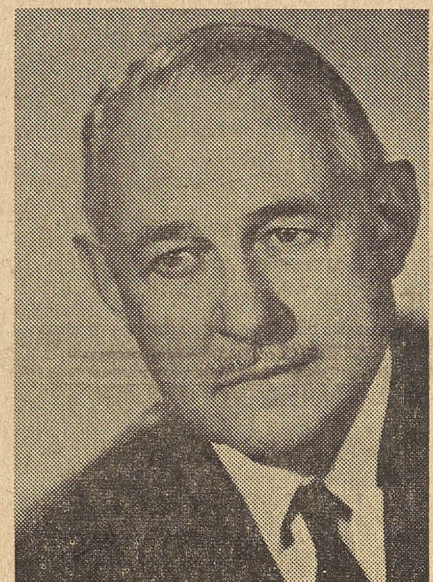

Make Decisions

"Politically," Dr. Monroe noted, "in a democratic society the citizens make their own decisions." He said the citizens must hear all sides in order to make the decision.

Constitutionally, the First Amendment guarantees the citizens the right of free speech. Dr. Monroe said that the amendment prevents government from interfering with that right and the Board of Education should not impose restraints on the colleges.

Dr. Monroe closed his speech saying that free speech also gives the right of free thought, with the people deciding for themselves.

Next week the Quadwranglers will not be held because of Club Day.

J. C. Chambers

Art Award Winners Give Exhibition

Currently exhibiting their works in the Art Department corridor are Fall '65 Art Scholarship Award winners.

Currently exhibiting are Carl Welland, Field Scholarship Award winner; Judith Bokelman, first; Richard Newkirk and Kris Andersen, second; and Iraj Parandoush and Lance Gravett, third.

According to Mrs. Zella Marggraf, associate professor of art, the purpose of the semi-annual awards is to give the students a chance to show their works and to give them due recognition for their efforts.

Monarchs Tutor

By DAN EHRLICH
Staff Writer

For most people the six years of elementary school fly by with the three R's implanted firmly within the mind. For others, however, this process may need some help.

Valley College believes it has the answer to this problem in its highly successful tutoring program for elementary school children.

Environmental Problems

Now beginning its second semester of operation, 75 Monarchs have answered the call for volunteers in the capacity of student tutors and are donating a portion of their free time each week in helping this nation's "future hope" with basic school work.

Focal point of the program's attention is Picoima's Sharpe Street Elementary School. In an environment of varied cultural backgrounds, many scholastic problems have long been prevalent.

It's unfortunate that students can't receive more individual help but with the size of the classes and the time allotted to teach all the subjects on the schedule this is impossible. The only practical help for the troubled child remains in private tutoring.

For an hour and half, four days a week, the Valley College corps of tutors head for their assignments at Sharpe Street School.

Intellectual Motivation

Greeted by anything from smiles to scowls upon arriving, the Valleyites get right down to teaching the three R's.

Individual attention can't go much farther than the Valley plan. At the start of each semester, tutors are assigned to one student who has a definite learning problem. It is that tutor's duty to take the child through the semester with the hope of correcting the deficiency.

"The way I see it, most of these children just need some intellectual stimulation or motivation to learn. Once this is accomplished the actual subject knowledge may be acquired normally," said Elizabeth Cervantes, a Valley student in her second semester of tutoring.

Miss Cervantes is typical of the many tutors who believe that learning is not limited to only the classroom. Usually during the last half hour of the visit with her charge, she may be seen discussing the many problems a child of about 10 years of age may have. If the weather is favorable, Miss Cervantes may teach subjects such as reading or math right on the school lawn.

She, like so many others, believes that much more can be accomplished when an air of closeness to the student is maintained. "Once a child accepts you, the chances of success are greatly increased," she concluded.

Specially Chosen Children

At Sharpe Street School students are specially chosen from the various classes and range from the fourth through sixth grade. All tutoring is done with parental approval.

The main purpose of the program is to give intellectually deficient students a good grounding in subjects they will need throughout the remainder of their schooling and for the rest of their lives.

With the 75 students of Valley's corps on the job, the promise of assuring these young citizens a chance to achieve the "American Dream" is clearly in sight.

Valley Aids Elementary School

College News Briefs

Blood Drive Committee Meets

The Blood Drive Committee representing each club on campus will have its second meeting tomorrow afternoon in B26 at 1 p.m. Committee chairman, Curt Shaffer, men's athletic commissioner, said plans and procedures for the drive will be discussed at that time. The bloodmobile will be here Thursday, March 3.

Club Donates Gift

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy has been donated to the Library as a gift from the Christian Science Organization on campus. The organization meets every Tuesday at 11 a.m. in Room No. 3 of the Valley Jewish Community Center across from Valley on Burbank Blvd.

Student To Teach Japanese

Christopher Cross, a second semester student, will teach Japanese character alphabet and grammar every Thursday to interested students and members of the faculty beginning today at 11 a.m. in FL107. While in the armed service he was stationed in Japan where he studied the language.

'White Survival'

"Can the white man survive in South Africa?" will be the topic of this semester's first student-faculty Round Table discussion. Richard Zimmer, instructor of history, will represent the faculty in the Banquet Room of the Cafeteria Friday, Feb. 18 at noon.

STAR EDITORIALS

Lawmakers Should Serve More Time

The provision in the U.S. Constitution which states, "The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States," must be amended. More than 100 resolutions to change the term to four years have been proposed in Congress but only two passed the committee stage. The last attempt was nearly half a century ago.

The proposal is at the fore once again. In President Johnson's recent State of the Union Address to Congress, he said such an amendment would benefit the voter, the Congressman and the President.

The main disadvantage to the two-year term is that the Representative must take a considerable amount of time to campaign for reelection. Thinking about elections makes the Congressman's difficult job even more difficult, and keeps him from serving the citizens to his utmost ability. In decreasing the frequency of elections, the phenomenal cost of campaigning every two years would be cut in half.

Representatives agree that the newly elected legislator needs more than the short two-year term to become acquainted with procedures, tactics and the people.

A four-year term is also more indicative of the Representative's abilities. It takes more than a two year service for the voter to evaluate his Representative. In four years, the voter can judge if his Representative warrants reelection.

Furthermore, a recent Gallop poll revealed that 61 per cent of those voters questioned favored the amendment, 24 per cent opposed it, and 15 per cent were without opinion.

A bill of this type is expected to pass the House but meet with disapproval in the Senate. If the measure passes the Senate, three-fourths of the states must then approve it for the bill to become an amendment to the Constitution.

The advantages outlined here of electing our Representatives to Congress for an increased term of four years undoubtedly outweigh the disadvantages, and an amendment providing for this would make our government more effective.

—ADRIENNE FRANDSEN

Students' Cars Not Lost in Space

With an anticipated day enrollment of 10,000 next year, something must be done or cars will be piled on top of each other for the lack of a place to park. With a restriction of no parking in front of the homes in the area, Valley's parking lots must be expanded.

One way to improve the situation is to expand the lot on Fulton Ave. and Burbank Blvd. Another is to provide additional parking spaces on the flood control unit between Burbank and Oxnard Blvds. on Coldwater Canyon.

Furthermore, one lot could be limited to small cars. This would not be done to discriminate against the owners of compact or foreign cars, but rather to separate the cars from the larger cars to best utilize available space.

As was done for motorcycles in Parking Lot G, a separate area for the cars could be provided. Those violating the parking rules would be fined.

Car pools could also help to alleviate, if not eliminate, the current parking problem. The first step has been taken by the Office of Admissions and Guidance. During registration students are asked to fill out a "Transportation Pool" card, which is included in the packet of cards.

For some unknown reason few, if any, students are ever contacted by the school as a result of the card. After having filled out a card once, many Valleyites fail to refill them either because there have been no results, or because they feel there will be none.

If the cards were placed in an easy to reach place and available throughout the year, perhaps students would not feel that it was an imposition to volunteer for the pool.

In an attempt to aid students in this matter, the Valley Star will publish free ads for students, which will state the intersection and preferred pick-up time, as well as the student's phone number.

The ads can help, but not entirely eliminate the present parking problem. Only through the combined programs of expansion and student cooperation can any program be successful.

—MARLENE PECHERSKY

Book Buyers Get Boon During Boom

In situations where a great lack of efficiency is present, we have become accustomed to the wheels of improvement and progress moving in slow bureaucratic circles, but in one such situation at Valley College the wheels have begun to roll, and the results could not possibly go unnoticed by even one student.

Though our bookstore is not yet the model of convenience for every single student, all have to admit the situation in the bungalow-housed business has done remarkably well in facing a wave of some 15,000 customers all wanting the same thing in the same week.

The first improvement anxious book buyers found this semester was the comfort of depositing books already owned, purses and other paraphernalia in a numbered cubbyhole with a corresponding check stub.

At other times the slightly less assuring method of having a guard watch students' possessions is used, but is still much better than leaving objects under a sign ominously telling the student that no one is assuming responsibility for them.

Actually entering into the confines of the store through the new east door is one of the reasons for less confusion during the once-a-semester business boom. By having separate doors serving as entrance and exit, the student store has made a long-needed improvement which has been used for years by markets and many stores of the community.

Efficiency also has been improved by allowing students with a load of new books and armed with a check to have the validity of that check approved at the checkstand. This change of policy has entirely removed one of the long, frustrating lines encountered by students seeking to acquire the written word.

Obviously, this semester still found long lines at peak hours, but it is doubtful if this problem can ever be completely remedied with present facilities, and the Star congratulates those responsible for alleviating the problem where possible in the existing situation.

—BRAD RITTER

Excess Clothing

'Victorian' Standards Change

Not too long ago in the little college town of Toad Wart Hill in Mucker County, Montana, a college passed a new dress code doing away with the "Victorian," conservative Ivy League-dress standards which had been the campus style for over a decade (it was a relatively new school as far as colleges are concerned).

The official act of withdrawing the outdated dress regulations requiring long pants for men and skirts or dresses for women was met with jubilation by the responsible groups, the LRECC (let's remove excess clothing committee) and the SBOC (sun bathers on campus organization).

Within days the old "Victorian" idea of ivy covered walls was replaced by the Las Vegas resort atmosphere, with coeds wearing the latest instant spray-on slacks (which come in assorted colors, candy apple pink being the most popular), or Lolita bermudas (which help provide that "little" girl look which is so necessary for the coed on campus hunting for a husband).

Collegian men, not to be outdone, shed their continentals and let their hair down (sometimes past their shoulders), thus assuming the order of KK (knobby knees), or IHHL (I have hairy legs) standing.

Events Progressed

Events progressed on campus and in the surrounding community until the end of the summer session, when the movement reached its peak.

High school graduates registered for the fall semester began to re-register at other schools. Little girls college bound spent evenings at home crying because their figures didn't warrant the bar maid appearance on campus. Masculine males shied away from the campus because they might have a feminine locker partner in gym, or people might laugh at their legs.

While these problems faced the freshmen, graduates seeking their fortunes in the work-a-day world faced their own.

Still 'Victorian'

Offices, professional fields and educational institutions didn't understand that they were still operating under "Victorian" dress standards, set by society. Now graduates either had to dress up, or give up in the world of today. They did not understand that to be accepted as the responsible adult they were, they would have to accept the standards of an adult world.

The lesson learned by a majority of the students was that college was not just supposed to prepare you for professional life academically but also physically and mentally. Student government acted and the chubbies and knobby kneed rejoiced along with scholars and faculty as the college resumed its professional atmosphere.

PAW PRINTS

RITTERIC

Valley Instructor Teaches History—And Takes an Active Part in It

By BRAD RITTER
Managing Editor

Almost everyone these days will offer an opinion on nearly any problem from local to international levels, using methods from sign carrying to, on rare occasion, intelligent discussion. This awareness and interest in our problems are, of course, necessary to a democratic society, but Valley history instructor Farrel Broslawsky is going a step further.

He, too, has opinions and his own solutions to our problems and so is seeking the Democratic nomination for Assemblyman from the 57th District.

Explaining his candidacy, Broslawsky said, "What we want to do in our society is remedy social problems through political means. I feel the guy representing my district in the Assembly (Republican Charles Conrad) hasn't dealt with any of our problems, and I want to do something about it."

The energetic two-year Valley faculty member has been active in too many organizations to list here. The groups he actively supports and participates in are all concerned with solving social problems, and include civil rights groups, political groups, the American Federation of Teachers and the California Federation of Teachers, of which he has been serving as vice-president.

"I participate in these organizations," he said, "because I am concerned with the problems, and now I'm just carrying this concern along the logical course of action."

SUCH CONCERN is especially appropriate for teachers of our nation's young people. Today's students will be attempting to solve tomorrow's problems and must, Broslawsky feels, "solve them through democratic political processes."

Integrity showing through, he added, "Though I am conducting this campaign, as a teacher my first responsibility is teaching. Conny as it sounds, I believe that."

Not being one for passing over such principles lightly, he has withdrawn in large part from many of the organizations he is affiliated with rather than shirk teaching responsibilities. He still winds up with a heavy load and when asked how much sleep he gets, he not too cheerfully replied, "Who sleeps?"

SLEEP OR NO SLEEP, he maintains his intellectual alertness, and after completing class preparation, he faces the task of using this alertness and putting his ideas on paper for the five to eight talks he gives each week.

One of the issues especially important to him, and to all of us, is the welfare and relief situation in our country.

Broslawsky reasoned, "Society is created for the mutual benefit of all its members, not as a vehicle for a few individuals. It just makes sense then that all individuals should feel kinship for all the members, which can't come about if they're alienated."

"THAT'S WHAT HAPPENS to persons in our society who are on welfare rolls. They are alienated in that they are made to feel humiliated. We allow them minimal benefits, and we give the benefits on the premise that it will be just until work can be obtained."

VALLEY STAR

LOS ANGELES VALLEY COLLEGE

California's only six-page weekly two-year college newspaper.

STEVE ROWLAND Editor-in-Chief

JEFF HANSEN Advertising Manager

Member, ACP All-American Honors Achieved: F54, S55, F55, S56, F56, S57, F57, S58, F58, S59, F59, S60, F60, S61, S62, F62, S63, S64, F64, S65

California Newspaper Publishers Ass'n

City Editor: Lee Sloan

Managing Editor: Brad Ritter

News Editor: Lorene Campbell

Sports Editor: Bill Clatworthy

Copy Editor: Neil Leibowitz

Club Editor: Alane Lewis

Fine Arts Editor: Pat De Graw

Associate News Editor: Marlene Pechersky

Associate Sports Editor: Gary Mortenson

Chief Photographer: Ranyon Lookert

Advisers: Dr. Esther Davis, Edward A. Irwin, Leo Garapedian

VALLEY FORGE

Protesters Lack Facts

By STEVE ROWLAND
Editor

The Vietnam war has developed into the usual American dilemma of too many people unattached from a given situation knowing "too much."

A day doesn't go by without someone expounding on the reasons we are engaged in combat in the obscure little country or why we should pull out. Suggestions are heard from politicians, professors and next door neighbors. We all have our own ideas and solutions to the problems, but how many of us are qualified and knowledgeable enough of the situation to make such forceful demands of our government?

THE TROUBLE is we all presume to know so much about a country, its people and its problems while actually the majority of us never realized that the little state of Vietnam existed three or four years ago.

All-wise, naive and misguided student protesters are the epitome of those who are exercising and obviously clinging to a last resort before being inducted into the armed services. If it weren't for Vietnam, it would be something else. It is only natural for young men to resist an almost inevitable term in one of the military services, but to the advantage of Communist propaganda it is more than regrettable—it is pathetic.

Steve Rowland

I can respect the opinion of those who are devout Communists and have the opportunity to see both ways of living. But I have little patience with those who so ardently support the Communists and their "war of liberation" and remain in this country and take advantage of the benefits of it. This is incongruous and intolerably hypocritical.

THE TRAGIC PART of the protesting is only an assumed small minority involved are admitted Communists. The remainder are "average" Americans perpetuating and organizing the greatest Communist propaganda activity in this country's history.

Poorly informed and unaware of the circumstances, Americans screamed about the use of tear gas against the Viet Cong to such an extent that the Reds seized the opportunity to follow through with the American complaints of inhumanity. A brilliant move on their part. The fact is that every newly inducted trainee in the Army is subjected to the same gas as a part of his training. The gas is uncomfortable at best, but it doesn't kill. It was used to save the lives of the Viet Cong's human shields of women and children.

A FRIEND OF MINE who recently returned from 14 months of active duty in Vietnam and currently attending Valley, is apathetic toward the protesters and considers them "misguided" and "unaware of what they are doing for the Communists." He concurs with me that the Army is an extremely unpleasant experience for most, but the price we pay is infinitely small for the privilege of enjoying the high standard of living we enjoy in the United States as compared with Communist countries. It isn't necessarily a patriotic belief but a realistic one that many of the sign carriers fail to realize.

The reason we are involved in Vietnam is so complex and involved I seriously doubt if anyone knows the extent of the involvement. However, the protesters' main premise is to pull out. Of all their complaints and solutions this has to be the most ridiculous. There are obviously only two alternatives in the situation: (1) either the Viet Cong voluntarily surrender or (2) there must be complete annihilation of the Communists in the country, and pulling out isn't going to appease the Viet Cong.

IF WE DID LEAVE Vietnam, the Communists would get that much stronger. The obvious move for them would be Cambodia, Laos (where they have begun already) and Thailand. Next, all of Asia including Malaysia, Indonesia, Philippines, then India, Africa and possibly Australia. The Australians, Koreans and New Zealanders are all involved because they are in the area of aggression. These countries realize what many of the protesters fail to, that is, the Communists have to be stopped, not because of freedom for all, but because of human decency.

AS FAR AS the American protesters are concerned, it is a simple thing to make a clinical evaluation when we are separated by the Pacific Ocean.

Protecting the war is not a question of courage, but one of self-respect and conscience.

INFORMATION

New students can obtain information concerning the campus at any of the information booths located conveniently around campus. Information can also be obtained through Monarch, the student handbook. Evening students will find information available in Diadem, the evening division handbook.

Farrel Broslawsky

Amour and Money Mix--On Sweethearts' Day

By CHET GREENGARD
Feature Writer

If you were in Denmark on Feb. 14th, you might send pressed snowdrop flowers to special friends. You might refer to the valentine card as a joking letter, and you might try your luck at poetry using a code of dots to make a guessing game out of it.

The old festival honoring June, the Roman goddess of women and marriage, and Pan, the god of nature, once known as the feast of Lupercalia, has come a long way since the way the ancient Romans celebrated it on Feb. 15. It was then a festival when young men and women chose partners by drawing names by chance from a box.

After the spread of Christianity, churchmen were anxious to rid the celebration of its pagan superstitions, so they chose St. Valentine's Day as a substitute, because it occurred so near the same time. The change did result in some modification to the ceremony, but the sentimental meaning of the old festival has remained to the present time.

Some Cost $10

In this country Valentine's Day became popular around the time of the Civil War. Most Valentines at that time showed a fat cupid whose arrows pierced a heart. Some cost as much as $10 apiece. Many of these old Valentines have become collector's items.

In early days, young people chose their Valentines by writing names on slips of paper, then drawing them by chance from a vase. After drawing lots, each young man wore the paper with his lady's name on his sleeve for several days. The expression "He wears his heart on his sleeve" probably comes from this custom.

Not Always Happy

Although Valentine's Day is celebrated as a festival of romance and affection, it was hardly that for the two martyrs of the early Christian church named Valentine who were beheaded on that day. Or for the seven hoodlums of the "Bugs" Moran bootlegging gang back in 1929 who were riddled with bullets in a Chicago garage by a group of men dressed in Chicago police uniforms in what is commonly referred to as the infamous "St. Valentine's Day Massacre."

Is Big Business

Valentine's Day is now big business. The Greeting Card Association announced that one year on Feb. 14, sales of 400 million Valentines amounted to $45 million. The Western Union Telegraph Company has used as many as 112 extra operators to sing 2500 Valentine messages for those who are undecided as to whether to send candy, flowers or cards. Candy makers keep busy preparing heart-shaped boxes for calorie-conscious chocolate lovers, and florists deliver orders for flowers to any and all locations. Business or sentiment, it's a good sign that somebody cares.

CLUBS

Activities Respite

By ALANE LEWIS
Club Editor

With club activities having reached a peak during Club Week, many of the clubs on campus are taking a brief respite from all club events. Club meetings will take place at the scheduled time, however.

Continuing club activity, HILLEL will present an informative discussion entitled "Israeli Youth . . . Fought for a Nation . . . Fighting for Peace" today, at 11 a.m., in Room 2 of the Valley Cities Jewish Community Center.

Dorothy Handler of the Jewish Federation Council and Jerry Kushner, assistant center director, will conduct the talk, which is open to the public.

The ROWDY ROOTERS, a new spirit club on campus, is having their first meeting today, at 11 a.m., in B78. Newly formed, this club is the only spirit club on campus open to all members of the student body. Serving as officers this semester will be Steve Feldman, president; Frank Pterro, vice-president; Arlene Canter, secretary; and Roy Schuaben, treasurer. Think Snow! Keeping this in mind,

Alane Lewis

Food Career OES Topic

C. Gordon Beisel of Sunkist Growers Incorporated will speak on "Careers in Food Technology," Tuesday at 11 a.m. in C100.

Beisel, manager of the technical department in the Orange Products Division of Sunkist Growers, Inc., held his first position as chief chemist of Citrus Juice and Flavor Company from 1937 to 1940.

From 1940 to 1942 Beisel was production manager of Panama Coca Cola Bottling Company. From 1942 to 1946 he served in the United States Navy and following that he was assistant director of research and development in Florida Citrus Canners Cooperative, a position he held until 1950. Then he was made director of research and development of Mutual Orange Distributors and had that job until 1953. At that time he was appointed to his present position.

Beisel has also been chairman and national counselor of the Southern California section of the Institute of Food Technology, and chairman of the National Committee on Citrus Products.

In addition to his regular business, Beisel has been active in the literary field, as contributing author to the publication, "The Chemistry and Technology of Fruit and Vegetable Juice Production," and author of 10 scientific papers on citrus products technology. His name is listed in the 10th edition of "American Men of Science."

Beisel, in addition to his position with the Sunkist Growers Inc., is a trustee in the Ontario School District in Ontario, Calif., where he lives with his wife and two daughters, and is a trustee in the Ontario Library and Riverside Presbytery.

Beisel is one of many speakers sponsored by OES—Occupational Exploration Series.

Modern Dance Holds Workshop

A workshop for girls interested in choreography begins next week under the direction of Mrs. Tirzah Lundgren and Miss Virginia Waldron, dance instructors.

A voluntary activity, girls currently enrolled at Valley will start working out various dance exhibitions for the "composition-competition" scheduled for Thursday, May 5, in the Little Theater at 11 a.m.

Categories for the artistic dance forms are comedy, which may be accompanied by records, jazz, accompanied by piano or some other live instrument, and straight, which may be accompanied by percussion. Other dances may be accompanied by the music mentioned, or by words.

Judging will be based on originality, structure of the artistic forms, design and use of space, dynamic impact or communicability of purpose and skill of performance.

Excluding authentic ballet or ethnic styles, the entries must be modern as well as original in individual or group form.

A recital at the end of the semester will present winners and best projects from all dance classes, according to Mrs. Lundgren.

"The reason the dance department is sponsoring a competition is because the performers do not get much response from Valley's population. Modern dancers have in the past worked with the Music Department in staging fall and spring programs. Since only 50 people showed up at the Christmas performance, we have decided that just isn't worth the time involved to have a show," said Mrs. Lundgren.

the SKI CLUB will present a pair of skis free to two participants who attend Tuesday's meeting in BS101. A film on the 1964 winter Olympics will also be scheduled.

CAMPUS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP is having an old fashioned hay ride tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. at Hansen Dam. Everyone's welcome, and it costs only $1 per person. Serving as new officers this term are Ron Hayes, president; Jean Gardner, vice-president; Pam Newcomb, secretary; and Donna LaRusso, treasurer. Weekly meetings are on Tuesday at 11 a.m. in H100.

What's a Stammtisch? The GERMAN CLUB invites all to find out by meeting in front of FL104 today at 11 a.m. Luncheon will be served at the Old Heidelberg Restaurant at Oxnard and Woodman.

All students interested in Christian Science are invited to the bi-annual welcome reception of the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION today, at 11 a.m., in B26.

Like sports cars? Ever been on a rally? The SPORTS CAR CLUB invites all interested students to attend their meetings on Thursday, 11 a.m. in E102. Requirements for membership do not include owning a car, sports or otherwise.

The FRENCH CLUB is in the midst of planning a special foreign language study seminar. Instructors will discuss the best way to study a language and answer questions about study methods. Time and place will be announced.

The ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS installed the spring executive cabinet members at the first mother-daughter luncheon last Saturday. After a review of the semester activities, incoming members were installed by Ned Suto, A.S. president.

Incoming board members are Cathy L. Gore, president; Robyn Button, first vice-president; Cheryl Antonelli, second vice-president; Sandy Hayes, recording secretary; Rhysa Davis, corresponding secretary; Jennifer Robertson, treasurer; Cheryl Inouye, historian; and Sandra Gold, parliamentarian.

All women students on campus are members of AWS, and are invited to attend the meetings on Wednesday at 7 a.m. in B26.

BETA PHI GAMMA, national honorary journalism fraternity, is having a progressive dinner party tomorrow night. Each course will be served at a different house, starting with the hors d'oeuvres at the school. This is the first social event of the season, and marks the beginning of an active semester.

The VALLEY COLLEGIATE PLAYERS, national honorary dramatic society, announces its new members for this semester, which have been accepted for their outstanding achievement in theater arts. Members consist of Wade Early, Tonia Gee, Jackie Kornblatt, Jan Pevney, Linda Balgon, John Nichols, Tony Lawrence, Dwight Drew, Stens Hen and Phil Tueken.

Spring officers for VCP are Marianne Whitley, president; Dwight Drew, first vice-president; Ken Copperburg, second vice-president; Tony Lawrence, treasurer; and Tovia Gee, secretary.

ALPHA MU GAMMA, the national honorary foreign language society, will be meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. in FL 107. Applications for membership will be available at this time.

Students Place High In State Semi-Finals

The California State Scholarship Commission has named three Valley College students as semi-finalists in the State Scholarship Program based on their scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Dr. Aura-Lee Ageton, scholarship and awards program secretary announced.

Semi-finalists are Mary Katherine Rappleye, Robert J. Doherty, liberal arts majors; and Fred J. Harris, pharmacy major.

"These students have been pointed out as achieving a marked level of success on the competitive examination for this demonstration of academic ability," said Dr. Ageton.

Finalist award winners will be announced from the statewide group of semi-finalists.

According to Dr. Ageton, a regular state scholarship is payable to a four-year educational institution in California on behalf of a winner.

This practice of aiding students according to their individual needs is

CAMPAINING—Assistant Professor of Speech John Buchanan talks with Valley students about his campaign for the 41st Assembly District. Buchanan, a familiar face around the campus, discusses contemporary issues and problems with a group of interested students. In another of his activities, Buchanan brings controversial speakers to the campus to promote interest in the students.

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Monarchs Meet

TODAY

ALL-COLLEGE ASSEMBLY—11 a.m. V.C. Theater, "Film Making for Theater and Television."—Don Freed, head of the Motion Picture Screen Actors Guild.

QUADWRANGLERS—11 a.m., Quad "Birth Control." Panel discussion.

CLUB MEETINGS—11 a.m. Campus Christian Fellowship H100
Rowdy Rooters B78
Sports Car Club E102
German Club FL104
Earth Science MS113
Christian Science Reception B26

A.S. KOFFEE KLATCH—9 a.m.—noon Cafeteria Conference Room

FRIDAY

AMS EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING—7 a.m., B26

MONDAY

CORONETS—7 a.m., Cafeteria

TUESDAY

OES—11 a.m., BS100, C100

CLUB MEETINGS—11 a.m.

Campus Christian Fellowship H100
Ski Club BS103
French Club FL102
Vets Club H103
Student Teachers H102
German Club FL104
JFK Young Democrats P100
Beta Phi Gamma BJ112
Newman Club F101
Art Club Art 110
Microwaves H114
Earth Science MS109

WEDNESDAY

AMS EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING—7 a.m., B26

LIBRARY HOURS

Valley day students can use the library's facilities daily except Friday from 7:45 a.m. to 10 p.m. Fridays it is open from 7:45 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will remain open during construction. The library is not open on weekends.

Fashion Designers Display New Trend

By RHYSA DAVIS
Staff Writer

Contemporary settings and bold contrast colors will be in the limelight in the spring fashion trends.

Bullock's Fashion Square, in a fashion show last week entitled "Les Magnifiques," presented 36 new Vogue pattern designs in dashing, dazzling French prints.

Basing their color scheme on the "Raw Silk Look," they have created a collection for women who enjoy the distinctive fashion.

New Fabrics

Born of the finest fabrics that shrug off wrinkles, disdain shrinkage and keep their color, new Boussas fabrics maintain their aristocratic poise in every Spring and Summer situation. Big free-form flowers of burnt orange flourishing on black is one of the "big" looks this year.

Paled peach, lemon and gray was easily matched in a coat and dress with the easy fit style of Vogue Paris Original 1540 by Heim.

An International Couturier Design 1564 by Galitzine demonstrated a toss of pink clover on cocoa, shaping a jacket slanted in delightful contradiction to its spiral-seamed dress.

Showers of Fun

A "shower" of fun would be inevitable for the young lady who took the time to make Vogue pattern 6615. Sunny golden roses on a "Wrappy" rain-or-shine coat of lilac "canzone," with an addenda of matching umbrella and a scarf make this ensemble irresistible.

Pants have all kinds of fancy names, some old, like jodhpurs and couettes and some new, like the Bermuda skirt that was presented in this collection.

Most hem lines are slightly above the knees this season, and take the "a line" or "gathered-flared" look.

French Models

Four models of the French Haute Couture modeled this collection of clothes for the woman who prefers to sew her fashions or have them made.

Arriving directly from Paris were Mlles. Annie Bouquey, Michele Lamy, Chantal Dumont and Carinne Didier.

These four mannequins modeled the fashions of Cardin, Laroche, Heim, Molyneux, Patou, Yves Saint Laurent, Ricci via Vogue Paris Original Patterns for the home sewer, Forquet, Galitzine, Michael ans Simonetta via Vogue International Couturier Patterns.

Knox Reveals '66 Madrigals

Members of the Spring '66 Madrigal Singers have been announced by Richard A. Knox, director.

After a series of tryouts among members of the Valley College choir, the 16 positions in the group were filled.

Madrigals for this semester are Darlene Bennett, Garfield C. Coleman Jr., Michelle Copeland, Bill Dow, Ellen Dworin, Jacquelyn Frost, Major Garrett, Jeryl Goldberg, Gary Hand, Marilyn McCandlish, Charles Mountain, Richard Needelman, James Nino, Kathy O'Neill, Chris Rarig and Tina Wilcox.

The Madrigal group, organized in 1956, sings all types of vocal chamber music from the early Renaissance to the present day.

"This group has the potential of being one of the finest groups we have had," said Knox.

Among the activities of the Madrigals this semester will be a performance at the San Diego Madrigal Festival March 18.

Board Approval

(Continued from pg. 1, col. 6) of Education's reluctance to allow the team to travel outside the state.

Rivera stated that his big project this year will be to get approval from the Board to attend the national championship tournament in Odessa, Texas, during June.

10 Monarchs

At the present time the traveling debate squad consists of 10 people while there are 50 members of the team in all. During home meets, Rivera tries to get as many of the 50 as possible entered into events.

The debate team is a part of the student body activities program and is allotted $2500 a year for its budget. Most team members, however, are members of the speech 11 class.

Any Valley student wishing to participate in the program should contact Rivera at extension 352 or in TA-156.

CLASSIFIED

WANTED—Student to share one bedroom apt. expenses. Near Valley (Whitsett and Oxnard). 761-5340 or see manager at 12538 Oxnard.

THE VALLEYWAGON PIT
UNAUTHORIZED VOLKSWAGEN
REPAIRS AND SERVICE
PIT STOP FOR FREEWAY RACERS
"IF YOU GOT THE BUG"

24 HOUR
REPAIRS
CALL VW 4-7075

S.W. CORNER
ROSCOE-
VAN NUYS

DISCOUNT WITH STUDENT BODY CARD

Buchanan Running

Valley Instructor Becomes Candidate

By NEIL LEIBOWITZ
Copy Editor

Politics, professional style, has worked its way into the Valley College scene as one of Valley's own political grapplers, John Buchanan, assistant professor of speech, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination to the state assembly.

Buchanan, who originated Quadwranglers, the weekly presentation of authoritative speakers on controversial subjects eight years ago, has started a diligent campaign toward the biggest controversy of them all—whether he is able to win the contest to represent the 41st state assembly district in the North Central Valley. This includes Sylmar, San Fernando and Pacoima.

Poverty Program

Running with a strongly idealistic program, the main concern of the 50-year-old father of two, in helping this district ties in closely with his work in the anti-poverty program. He is head of a sub-committee investigation of prices of food and clothing for the Consumers Legal Aid Committee of which he is a member. This committee is working to help the lower income families with their retail purchases.

Staff Announcer

Other areas in which Buchanan believes he will well represent his district are urging rapid transportation and compensatory education.

Born in Seattle, Washington, Buchanan didn't enter college until after he served four years in the weather service of the United States Army from 1941 through 1945.

While he was attending the University of Denver he worked as a staff announcer for radio station KOA in Denver. He was graduated Phi Beta Kappa in 1948 with a B.A. in radio speech. He received his M.A.

in speech therapy in 1951.

Since coming to Valley College he has taught voice and diction, argumentation and debate and public speaking. Aside from being head of the Quadwrangler committee, he is director of the forensic program of the school.

The idea of running for the office came to Buchanan from Tom Carroll, present representative of the 41st district. When Carroll decided to run for a higher office, he sent out questionnaires to determine who would be the best candidate to fill Carroll's empty post. Buchanan's name came up most often.

Represent Colleges

Buchanan, excited about the idea of entering the world of politics, says "I believe there is an educational viewpoint to be heard in the capital. Now there are mainly business interests represented in Sacramento, that's why Valley College looks as it does. You just have to look around the school to see the unimaginative, cheap architecture.

"Fortunately, schools are not made up of just buildings, but good students. But I believe beauty inspires learning. The business interests in government are mainly concerned with saving money, but what they don't consider is that business's very life depends on the quality of education."

Speech Making

Each day Buchanan is making more speeches, building up to the primary on June 7. Speeches, handshaking and backslapping are becoming a way of life to the head of the Speech Department.

"I feel that if I can win the nomination, I will be able to win the election," he said, and if he does he will be off to Sacramento, leaving Valley College with one less politician.

BUMPER STICKERS—John Buchanan, assistant professor of speech, places a bumper sticker on his car. Buchanan, a candidate for the California State Assembly, has been a member of the Valley College faculty since 1957.

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Field Art Scholarship Available

Dr. Aura-Lee Ageton, scholarship and awards program secretary, announces the availability of the Field Art Scholarship to Valley College students.

"This is a $50 cash award given every semester to an art major. There is no minimum grade point average required, but any student competing for this scholarship will be expected to provide a portfolio of his art work for the consideration of the Art Faculty Selection Committee," said Dr. Ageton.

The Field Art Scholarship is made possible by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Field who have given the award for the past two years through the administration of the All-College Scholarship Societies, Tau Alpha Epsilon and Les Savants.

Dr. Ageton believes that the Field

Art Scholarship is an important award "because in an art scholarship, if a person qualifies for one, it is easier for him to get another. The world is not equal to all, but equal opportunity to all."

Interested students can obtain applications at the round desk in the Administration Building. Completed applications should be filed with Dr. Ageton in her office, Adm. 124.

Our Facility is air-conditioned for
OUR COMFORT

YOU STAND ON THE OUTSIDE

Fulton at Burbank Blvd.

"Batman-ia"

8:30 p.m., Feb. 26

Maarev Temple, 5180 Yarmouth,
2 blks. N. of Ventura Blvd.—and
1 blk. West of White Oak

Music by Al Minton and his band

Prices
• FREE to those joining Hillel
• Members $1.00
• Guests $1.75

Contests

Prizes

Refreshments

Shoe Salesman

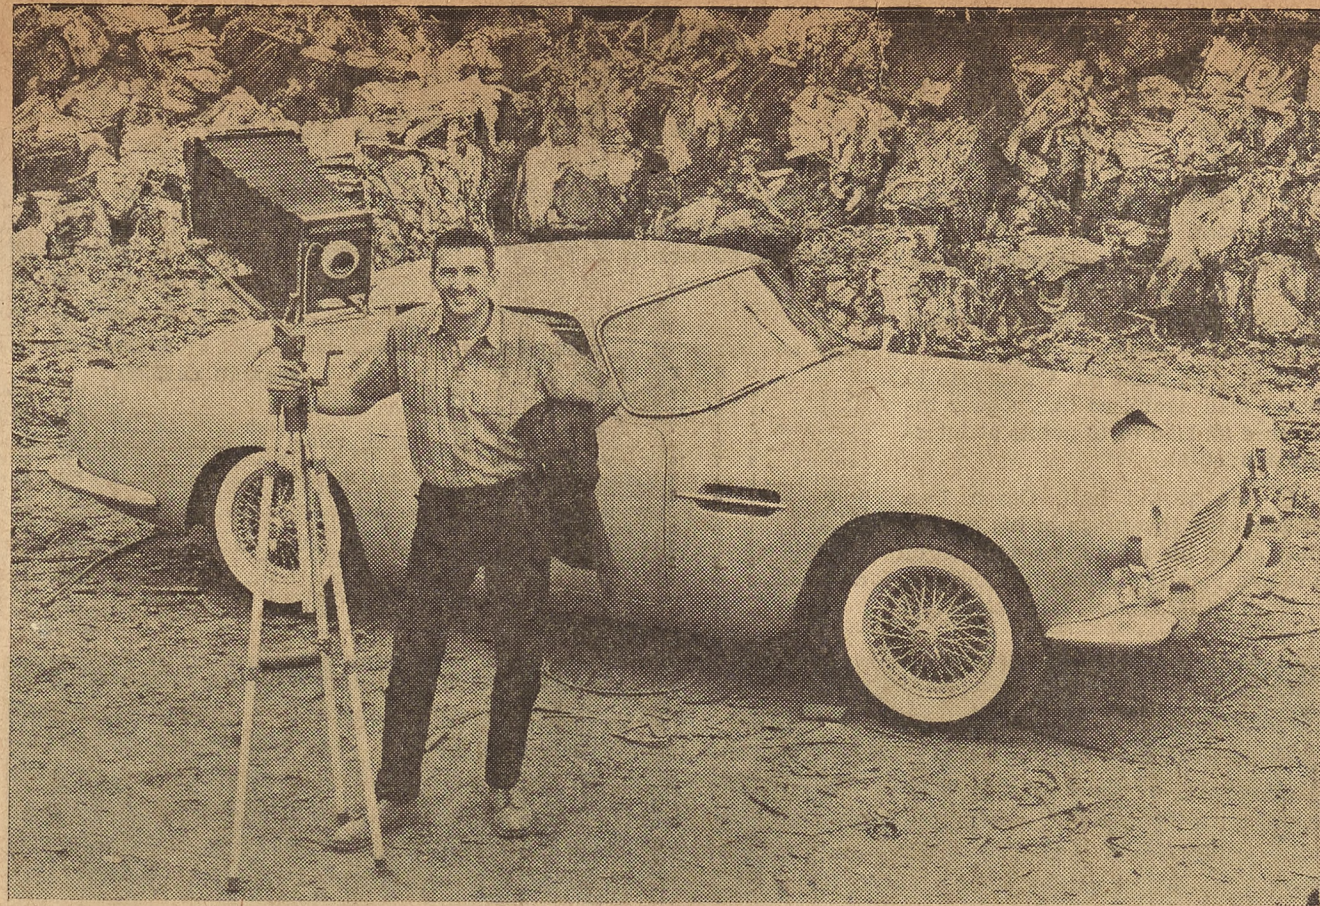

- for part time work
- arrange hours

Apply in person
Start at $1.75 hr.

★ Experience preferred

Shoe Dept.
Rathbun's

5311 Lankershim North Hollywood

CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHER—Jason Hailey, professional creative photographer and winner of the 1963 Critics Award for Photography, will present "Photography as a Service Art and a Fine Art"

Wednesday at 7 p.m. in C100. Above, Hailey demonstrates how, with a little imagination, one goes about being a "creative" photographer.

Journalism Department Gets Photography Demonstration

"Photography... as a Service Art and a Fine Art" will be presented by Jason Hailey, professional photographer, on Wednesday in C100 at 7 p.m.

In demonstrating photography as a service art, Hailey will show assignment work in advertising. As a fine art, he will show prints and slides of selective eye work with a discussion on applied fields.

Creative Work

Hailey feels that photography encompasses a number of products which, when put together, create the whole or finished picture. As an art he feels that it is a symbolic activity, "the construction of form from experience."

In creative work, "it's not the medium, but a product of the heart, head and hand which determines the achievement," said Hailey.

The photographer also deals with objective reality, yet, it is "the mastery of the means which leads away from an excess of reality that determines the character of photographic art." Thus, Hailey feels observation or the "selective eye" is fundamental to the creative art.

Hailey was born in Petersburg, Fla., in 1925, and as a photographer his career began at the age of 11 when he took it up as a hobby.

Critic's Photography Award

In World War II he worked as a U.S. Naval Reserve photographer. In the few short years following the war he attended two schools. The first was USC and the second was the Art Center School in Los Angeles from which he was graduated in 1951. Following his graduation, he opened a small commercial studio with two associates, and four years later an advertising studio.

In 1962 he took over the entire studio and began commercial application of fine art work with architectural and interior design.

In 1963 Hailey won the Critic's Award for Photography (Western States) in Los Angeles. He holds the following degrees: AA (1947); Bachelor of Professional Art (1951); and Master of Photography (1958).

He is active as a lecturer, demonstrator and writer for trade publications. He is currently doing commercial work for Schick Razor Co., Miller High Life Brewing Co. and the Kaiser Jeep Corp.

Noon Seminars Discuss Plays

"Incident at Vichy" by Arthur Miller will be the first topic in a series of noon-time seminars on 20th century literature to be presented by the English Department this semester.

Leading the discussion on the play Tuesday in H105, will be James Chambers, instructor of English. Students and faculty are invited to attend the seminar and comment on the theme of the play and the subjects it explores; the makings of Nazism, the Third Reich and the slaughter of innocent people.

Copies of the play are available at the library on a one-day reserve basis until Tuesday. Students may bring their lunch to the discussion.

Tentative scheduling for the remainder of the semester includes: March, "The Immoralist Novel," discussed by Mrs. Shirley Lowry, instructor of English.

In April, "Modern American Jewish Novelists," conducted by Terry Kahn, instructor of English.

In May, "The Poems of Robert Lowell" will be discussed by Thomas McGuire, associate professor of English and head of the English Department.

In June, "The Theater of the Absurd" will be the topic of the seminar for Mrs. Nancy Healey, assistant professor of English.

Plans to conduct the seminar have been under discussion by members of the English Department for the past three years, according to Mrs. Lowry. She also said that they are planning to continue the program next semester on a different period of English literature.

CLUB NEWS DUE

All news regarding club activities is due at noon Monday. Information concerning club events, activities and meetings can be deposited in the club news mail box in BJ114. Any information regarding club members, parties, benefits, personal items, anecdotes, etc. will be appreciated.

Seating for these shows is limited to a first come, first served basis.

Valley Star Wins Award

By NEIL LEIBOWITZ
Copy Editor

The Valley Star, 20 times Associated College Press All-American winner, captured second place for general excellence in the two-year college newspaper category at the annual California Newspaper Publishers Association convention in Palm Springs last weekend. The Los Angeles City College Collegian won first place.

The Star, represented at the convention by five journalism students, was invited to compete along with 71 other two-year college newspapers in the state. There were separate categories for four-year colleges and professional newspapers.

Awards Presentation

Attending from Valley were Sheila Codie, editor of the student handbook, Monarch; Pat DeGraw, fine arts editor of the Star; Neil Leibowitz, editor of Sceptre Magazine; Brad Ritter, editor of Crown Magazine; and Steve Rowland, editor of the Star. Rowland accepted the award on behalf of Ken Lubas, editor of the Star's editions that were judged for the contest.

The convention, consisting mainly of meetings for professional editors and publishers in California, aimed many events at students who attended.

At the main dinner Friday night, Governor Edmond G. Brown was the featured speaker before more than 800 people.

Saturday morning the awards were presented at a special breakfast. The two-year college division was presented first, followed by the four-year college category, then professional newspapers, with awards given according to circulation.

After the awards breakfast a special talk was presented by Herbert Klein, editor of the San Diego Union on "The Challenge to Journalism in an Atomic Age," followed by questions from students.

Panel Discussion

At 11 a.m. Brown was escorted into a special exhibit area and a press conference was established for the students and their advisers.

Questions presented to the Governor included such topics as the quarter system for school; a GI Bill, giving monetary assistance to veterans who are attending college; the possibility of separate boards of education for junior colleges and high schools; and the proposed tuition for state junior colleges.

The final event on the student program was a student-advisers seminar in which the "Executive Possibilities of Journalism" was discussed by both a student and publisher panel. Ritter represented Valley on the student panel.

The other schools represented were USC, California State College at Fullerton and Fullerton Junior College. On the publishers' panel were editors from various newspapers in the state.

ACCEPTS AWARD—Steve Rowland, Valley Star editor, accepts an award for general excellence in the two-year college category from Gov. Edmond G. Brown at the annual California Newspaper Publishers Association convention in Palm Springs.

—Valley Star Photos

CLUBS

Weekend Plans

By ALANE LEWIS
Club Editor

Feel lost and insignificant? Like to be active but don't know how?

Well, here are a few suggestions. First, consider joining a club. There are over 40 clubs on campus and one of them is bound to be interesting to you. Don't want to join a club? Then try student government. Associated Men or Women students offer each individual a chance to become involved on campus.

AWS welcomes all girls on campus to come to their board meeting at 7 a.m. Wednesdays in B25. All girls on campus are members of AWS, and are urged to come.

One of the larger clubs on campus, the SKI CLUB is currently preparing for a club exchange with Pierce College and the Valley State Ski Clubs. According to Linda Howie, president, all that remains to be done is set the date. "There will be dancing, a ski fashion show, ski movies and lots more," she said.

Now obtainable through the Ski Club are ski trips to Mammoth, Squaw Valley and Aspen, Colorado. For information come to the Ski Club meetings in P100, Tuesday at 11 a.m.

"To initiate the new and stimulate the old," HILLEL presents "Meaning of Hillel" today at 11 a.m. in Room No. 2 at the Valley Cities Jewish Community Center, across the street from Valley.

Detailed information concerning Hillel's origin, its purpose, how the student fits in and the many opportunities offered to him will be discussed. At this time students will be able to join a committee of their interest.

TAU ALPHA EPSILON - LES SAVANTS invites all present, past and potential members of the scholarship societies and their guests to an open house to be held Friday, 8 p.m., at the home of Don Wilkins, 5815 Matilija Ave., Van Nuys.

The agenda will include The Conquerors, a quartet choral group with their piano accompanist, the piano virtuosity of Sandy Hayes, president of Coronets, and a short business meeting including the election of officers to the TAE Executive Board.

The CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION announces its new officers for the coming semester: Rhysa Davis, president; Bonnie Pignaturo, vice president; and Martin U'ren, clerk-treasurer. Congratulations! All those interested are invited to attend the meetings each Tuesday in Room No. 3, Jewish Community Center.

Holding its open house this coming Tuesday is the BOWLING CLUB. All are invited to attend at 11 a.m. in BJ110. On Saturday preliminary teams will be established in order to compete with other teams at the Panorama Bowl at 10 a.m.

NEWMAN CLUB is holding the first of its monthly communion and breakfast Sundays this Sunday at 8:30 a.m. at St. Jane Frances de Chantal, 13001 Victory Blvd., North Hollywood. The morning service will be followed by breakfast at Ontra's Cafeteria, 5344 Van Nuys Blvd., Van Nuys.

The Newman Club holds its weekly meetings Tuesday at 11 a.m. in E101. Batman is coming! And that's no joke, according to Knights, Coronets and the Student's Civil Rights Organization.

ALPHA MU GAMMA, foreign language society, is having an initiation luncheon this Saturday at 12:30 p.m. at the Toluca Smoke House, 4420 Lakeside Dr. in Burbank. Tickets are available through the Smoke House for $2.38, including tax and tip. At this time new members will be initiated.

Applications for membership are available through Feb. 11 in the Foreign Language Building. Minimum requirements for membership are a 3.0 (Continued on pg. 6, col. 7)

CLASSIFIED

SEE MORE IN EUROPE THIS SUMMER, see it better and save—traveling with NSA—a choice of 33 flexible trips of 21 to 63 days with other college and graduate students using special rates for travel, accommodations, admissions, etc., available only through NSA. Trips to Europe, Israel, Latin America and the Far East. Student ships available. Write for free book: U.S. National Student Association, Dept. Z, 265 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016. A nonprofit organization for students.

WORLD TRAVEL and College Credit? Call Dr. Modisett, 349-1200, Ext. 1237. Scholarships also available for good GPA's.

TIME INC. Campus Representative for 1966

A position is now open on your campus. A Time Inc. college representative on a small or medium-sized campus can expect to earn $200 to $750 in commissions annually selling subscriptions to TIME, LIFE, PORTFOLIO ILLUSTRATED and FORTUNE at reduced students' and educator rates. On larger campuses, many of our representatives earn over $750 a year. They work hard, of course, but their hours are their own, and they gain valuable business experience in this year-round marketing program. Send name and address, college, class and any other information you consider important to Time Inc., College Bureau, TIME & LIFE Building, Rockefeller Center, New York City 10020. All applications must be submitted by March 1, 1966. You will be contacted promptly.

'55 CHEV. Automatic, heater, clean. Excellent. $300. ST 6-3368

ALL STUDENT TOURS

68 days
$1397.50

- ENGLAND
- HOLLAND
- BELGIUM
- GERMANY
- AUSTRIA
- SWITZERLAND
- YUGOSLAVIA
- GREECE
- ITALY
- FRANCE
- SPAIN

July 2 to September 7
SYDNEY KESSLER, Ph.D.
4849 Van Nuys Blvd.
Sherman Oaks State 8-2626

Public Administration Scholarship Available

A $1,500 scholarship in public administration is termed "Scholarship of the Week" by Dr. Aura-Lee Ageton, secretary of the scholarship committee and is open for candidates.

An approximate 3.0 grade average and an interest in government, civil service and/or any other field of public administration qualifies a student to be proposed as a candidate.

"The qualifications are easily met," says Dr. Ageton, "but candidates for this fine scholarship are difficult to find."

Dr. Ageton says that this is not the first opportunity the scholarship committee has had to propose a candidate for this scholarship. "A former Valley College student who won it was Elton Sims. He went to USC on the scholarship and is now a deputy sheriff at Newhall. Sims was recommended by another student," she said.

Public administration is an upper division major, but a student should be made aware of this scholarship so he can apply for it in time to transfer, says Dr. Ageton.

A major in public administration offers many opportunities in the United States. Positions such as personnel director or analyst, jobs in civil service, employment in school districts and in the United Nations are only a few of the more than 250,000 employment opportunities in public service.

Interested students must go through Dr. Ageton's office in the Administration Building for further information and applications.

Drama Students Oriented To Theater Arts Facilities

Students new to the Theater Arts Department were introduced to facilities in an orientation program held last Thursday in the Little Theater at 7:30 p.m.

Students gathered for the award presentation of the outstanding leaders and students who participated in the one-act-play series last semester.

Among those who received awards from the selected categories were Pete Parkin for the direction of the best one-act play, "The Zoo Story"; best actress, Cyndie Van Dyke for "Snow Angel"; scene design, John Powell for "Hughie"; and sound, Lenny Teifin for "Mr. Caution in Hollywood."

The top prize for the evening was the awarding of the Judges Trophy. This was given to Charles Donald Robinson for "Box and Cox."

The one-act-play series will resume next Thursday with the showing of "The Lover" by Harold Penner. The cast will include Tony Lawrence as Richard, Sharon Soderstrom as his wife Sarah and Rachel Silverman, who completes the cast, as the milkmaid.

All performances are presented in the Theater Arts Experimental Laboratory, TA101, at 11 a.m. and also at 8 p.m. on the evening which they are scheduled.

Seating for these shows is limited to a first come, first served basis.

Boy Meets Girl

All the modern male student has to do to meet the girl of his dreams is to wait for the sound of a bell.

That's how students at Valley College seem to be doing it.

As the coed rang the bell on the library reserve desk, out of the study hall dashed a male student who positioned himself behind the desk. "May I help you?" asked the student. "Yes," replied the coed.

When the attendant saw the student where he didn't belong, she went over to see what was going on. "What seems to be the trouble?" asked the attendant. "Oh, nothing," replied the student. "I was just trying to reserve this girl."

Custom Recordings for Auto Stereos

$4.75—NO UPS
—NO EXTRAS
Satisfaction Guaranteed

Valley's Oldest 5746 Bucknell Ave.
North Hollywood

PO 6-6781
TR 7-7327

THE VALLEYWAGON PIT

UNAUTHORIZED VOLKSWAGEN

REPAIRS AND SERVICE

PIT STOP FOR FREEWAY RACERS

"IF YOU GOT THE BUG"

24 HOUR
REPAIRS
CALL VW 4-7075

S.W. CORNER
ROSCOE-
VAN NUYS

DISCOUNT WITH STUDENT BODY CARD

VALLEY MUSIC THEATRE
16000 VENTURA BOULEVARD, WOODLAND HILLS
NICK MARGO & RANDOLPH WALKER, PRODUCERS

GET THE HABIT

A SWINGIN' HOLIDAY EVE SHOW!

ONE NITE ONLY! MONDAY FEB. 21

THE STAN GETZ QUARTET

PLUS CHAD AND JEREMY

GET THE HABIT

ORDER YOUR TICKETS BY PHONE—883-9900
Also So. Cal. Music Co., 637 S. Hill St., Mutual Agencies & Wallichs Music City

UNDER THE BLEACHERS

Talent Deep For Cicotti

By BILL CLATWORTHY
Sports Editor

Tomorrow just might be the start of an era in Valley College athletics. Baseball comes to town and leaves town as Bruno Cicotti sends two teams into the first day of baseball season.

As deep in talent as any Monarch team has ever been, Cicotti's crew stands a good chance of bringing home victories from the Northridge home of the Valley State Frosh and the rocky slopes of the Glendale diamond.

Recruiting is the big story in the hopes for improvement of the Valley baseball squad. So far this year, the benefits of a topnotch recruiting program have showed up in basketball and football. The same stepped up system is responsible for the record turnout for the track team under George Ker and Nick Giovinazzo.

CICOTTI AND ASSISTANT COACHES Dan Means and George Goff have rounded up some of the top baseball talent in the city and pose a genuine threat to perennial powerhouse of the Metropolitan Conference—Cerritos.

To keep the team from losing its edge during breaks between games, Cicotti has scheduled several extra games with such teams as USC, UCLA, Valley State, Pasadena and Arizona's Mesa College.

Tomorrow's games with the Picardors and the Vags will see the Monarchs' squad divided into two equally powerful units. Although the teams have not been named as yet, the probable starting line-up against Glendale shapes up this way: Dave Conway at first; Art Martinez at second; Gerry Adams at third; Ira Herringman at short; Will Wright in right; Vernon Henry in center; and John Landtiser in left. Chips Swanson is penciled in as starting pitcher and will probably go two or three innings, throwing to Steve Capka.

Against Valley State, Means will probably use Jim Werder at first, Jerry Yelsky at second, Rocky Raffa at third, Rick Sagerman at short, Don Epstein in right, Rudy Binda in center and Dennis Thompson in left. Dave Shotland will start on the mound and Bob Fusano should be behind the plate.

COMMENTING ON THE TEAM as a whole Cicotti says, "We have the depth and the pitching. The infield is improving every day, and the outfield is strong. If they hustle, work together and play for each other, we should be a contender."

Referring to the conference, Cicotti is sure that Cerritos is the team to beat but, "Long Beach, El Camino and Bakersfield are always tough."

One thing is certain. The Monarchs are sure of improving on last year's season. They finished a dismal sixth in the always tough Metropolitan Conference.

Defense was the big bug-a-boo last season, but with a team full of all league and all city players, it doesn't seem likely that the Monarchs will give away too many runs.

WITH NOT MANY BIG HITTERS, it looks like the burden will be with the pitchers. Anchored by Dave Smith, the all-city star from Poly, the Monarchs could have the toughest staff in the conference. Valley fans will have a chance to see at least eight of them in action tomorrow if they feel like running back and fourth between Glendale and Northridge.

Racquetmen Host Pierce Tomorrow

In preparing for a long trip on the road to the 1966 Metropolitan tennis title, the Valley Monarch racquet squad will open its practice season tomorrow at 2:30 p.m., hosting the rival Pierce Brahmas.

Valley, who enters this season as co-favorites with El Camino for the conference crown, are led by 1966 captain Bill Rombeau, an all-city player from North Hollywood. The next five spots are pretty well up for grabs, with sophomore Al Bernstein, Rich Berman and Erwin Wolf having the upper hand.

Also ranking high in Coach Al "Ace" Hunt's net plans are Cliff Loeb from Hamilton, Zoltan Cosmoss from Poly, Bob Heiber from San Fernando, Lawrence Schoenfeld, Jan Janotta, and Brian Saffian, a three-year high school letterman.

Pierce comes into this season with their strongest net team. The Brahma racquetmen are paced by Gary Gran-ell and Karl Hasse. Granell took last season's Southern California J.C. singles crown and teamed with Hasse to capture the doubles trophy.

Before the opening league competition March 2, the hometown netters will play a series of practice tilts. After meeting Pierce the Lions travel to Ventura and return home to play host to Harbor Feb. 15.

Coach Hunt professed his team's title hopes by saying, "Everything depends on the El Camino matches," which dramatically come as the last meets of the season.

'Gades Seek Revenge On Monarch's Court

By BOB KRAYL
Staff Writer

A revenge-minded team from Bakersfield arrives at Valley tomorrow evening determined to atone for its loss to the Monarchs on the Renegades' home court. Valley defeated the Renegades 86-74, marking the first time in eight years that they have turned the trick in the northern gym.

Trying to thwart the Lions' chances of victory are two of the conference's leading scorers, Willie Nutt and Bill Winston. Winston is currently ninth in Metro league scoring with a 15.8 average and Nutt is not far behind at 15.2.

Valley Comeback

The Monarchs are solidly situated in second place in the Metro standings with a 4-3 record and are determined to catch the high-flying Long Beach Vikings. However, they must overcome their previous bad performances against comparatively weak Santa Monica and powerful Long Beach if they are to recapture first place.

Valley's hopes for a comeback depend on a return to form by Charles Robinson. He played his finest game since the Sam Barry tournament in leading Valley to a 90-77 victory over the Santa Barbara Frosh last Friday night. He scored 23 points and played a fine defensive game.

One advantage for Valley in the second round of play is that they will meet Long Beach on the Mon-

By BILL CLATWORTHY and
GARY MORTENSON

For all practical purposes, the Metropolitan Conference basketball season is over. It ended Tuesday night in the El Camino College gym where the Warriors nudged Dan Means' Monarchs, 99-98, in overtime.

Costly lapses in ball handling and sloppy play on the defensive boards shattered any hopes that the Monarchs might have held of catching Long Beach and the conference championship.

The final blow came with just 12 seconds remaining in the overtime period. With Valley holding the ball and a 98-96 lead, Loren Bracci missed a shot, from under the basket. Alan Lepper grabbed the rebound and fired a pass down court to Bob Brennan who drove through the Valley defenders to lay-up the tying basket. As the ball fell through the hoop, Brennan, reputedly the worst free thrower the Warriors have, was fouled. He converted his single free throw to salt away the victory. The big three-point play took place with one second to play.

Monarchs Start Fast

Valley controlled the opening tip and jumped off to a 5-0 lead on two quick buckets and a free throw by Charles Robinson.

Two baskets by Jim Lloyd and a charity shot by Lepper tied it at five, then the lead starting bouncing back and forth until 9:13 when Robinson hit three free throws to push Valley ahead, 24-20.

Don Terpstra held the hot hand for the next minute connecting for six points, giving the Monarchs a 10-point bulge at 32-22.

Warriors Spurge

For the next two minutes both teams swapped baskets, then the Warriors splurged for eight points to close the half down by three, 40-37.

John Hindenach opened the second half with three points for the Monarchs, but El Camino grabbed the lead at 45-43 on eight straight points by Steve Wright. The points kept coming until the end of the quarter when El Camino led 66-56.

Jennings Ties It

Down by three with 35 seconds to go, Robinson hit a free throw and Steve Jennings added his 23rd and 24th points to send it into overtime.

All of the Valley scoring in the five minute overtime was done by Robinson and Cary Smith but it wasn't enough as Brennan, who missed a free throw with one second to play in regulation time, wrapped it up for the Warriors.

METROPOLITAN CONFERENCE
Valley (98)		El Camino (99)
Robinson (26)	F	Wright (18)
Smith (32)	F	Lloyd (23)
Hindenach (5)	C	Lepper (17)
Terpstra (8)	G	Osbrink (20)
Jennings (24)	G	Brennan (12)

SCORE BY HALVES
Valley	40	44	14-98
El Camino	37	47	15-99
Scoring subs: Valley—Bracci 1, Kirkland 2, El Camino—Trogan 4, Palmquist 3.

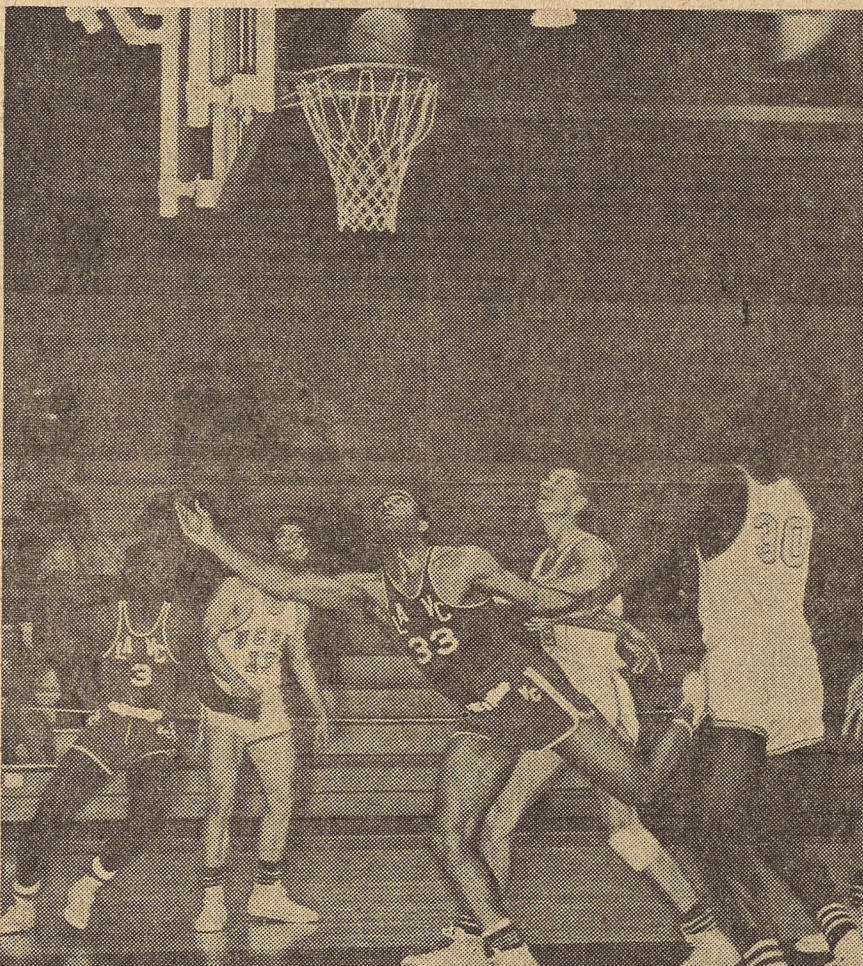

In a game played last week at the University of California at Santa Barbara, Valley College outran a slower UCSB Frosh team to post an impressive 90-77 victory.

Leading the Monarch attack was Charles Robinson.

Robinson scored 23 points to lead all scorers, pulled down 10 rebounds and held the Frosh's leading scorer, Leroy Jackson, to 10 points.

Monarchs Steve Jennings and Cary Smith supplied their usual punch with 19 and 17 points, respectively.

In the first 10 minutes of the half, neither team could take a substantial lead, with the Monarchs holding a

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

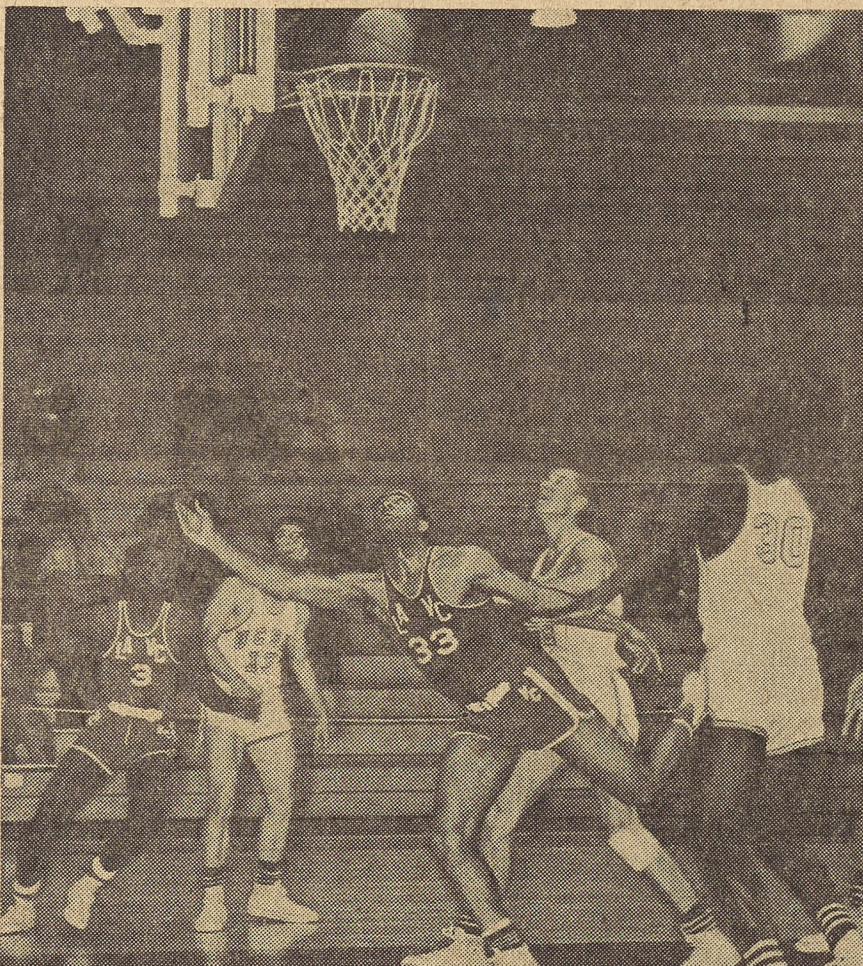

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

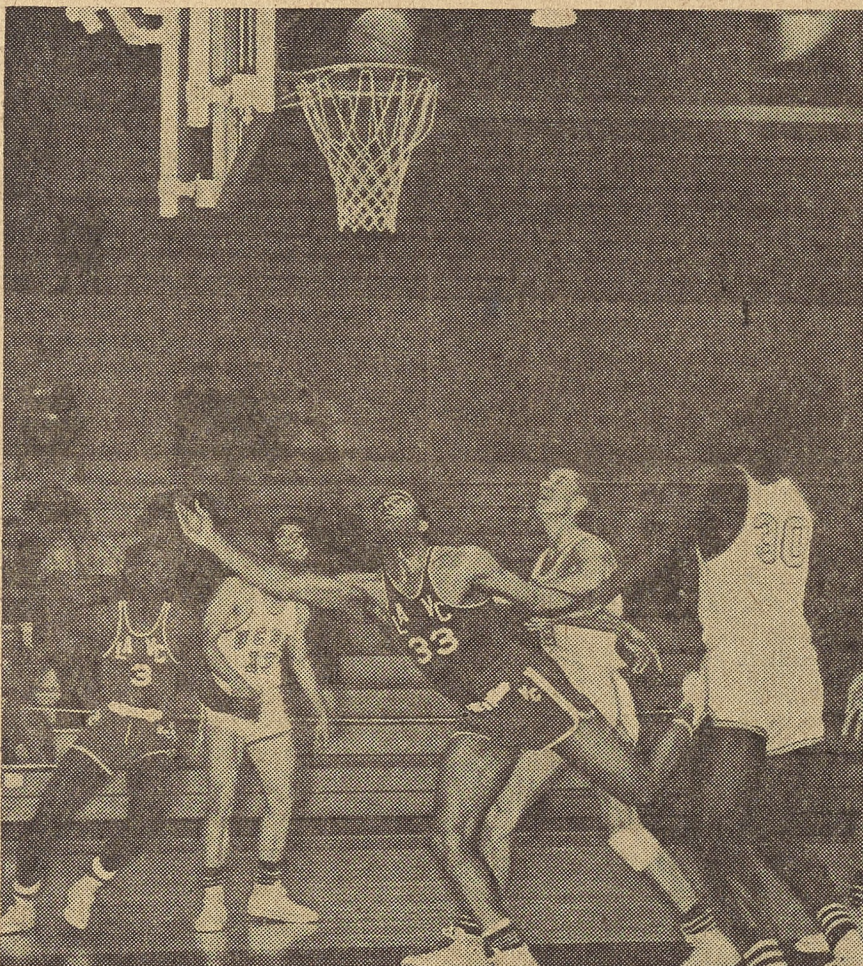

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

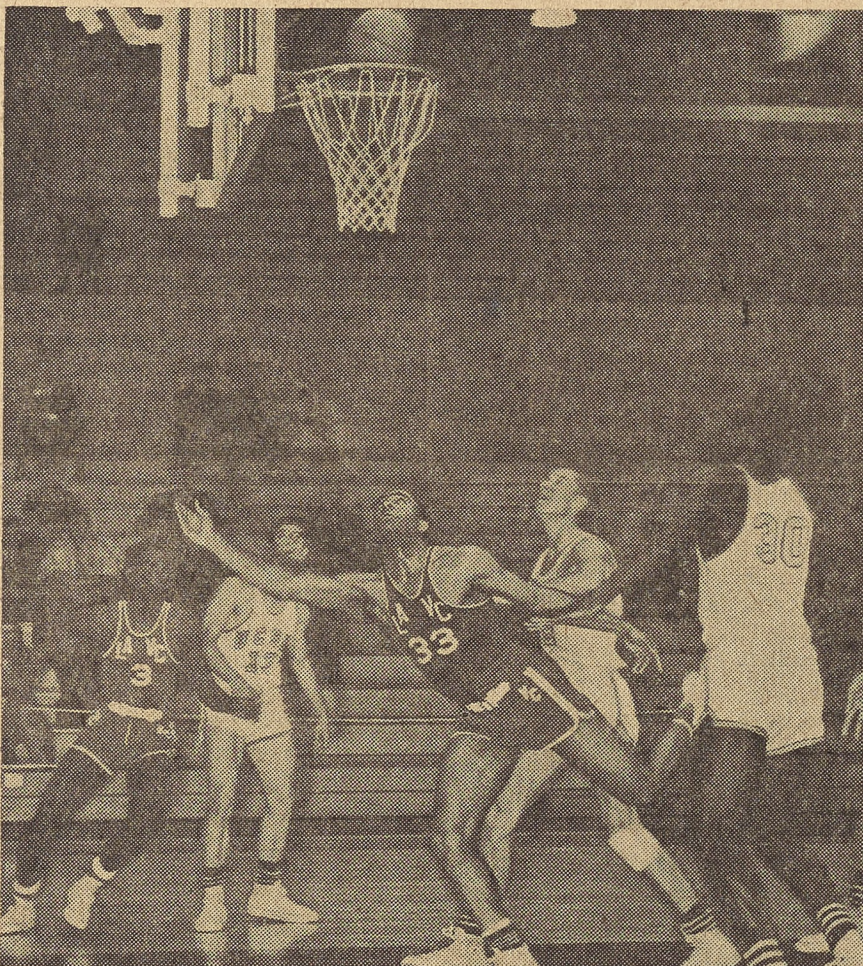

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

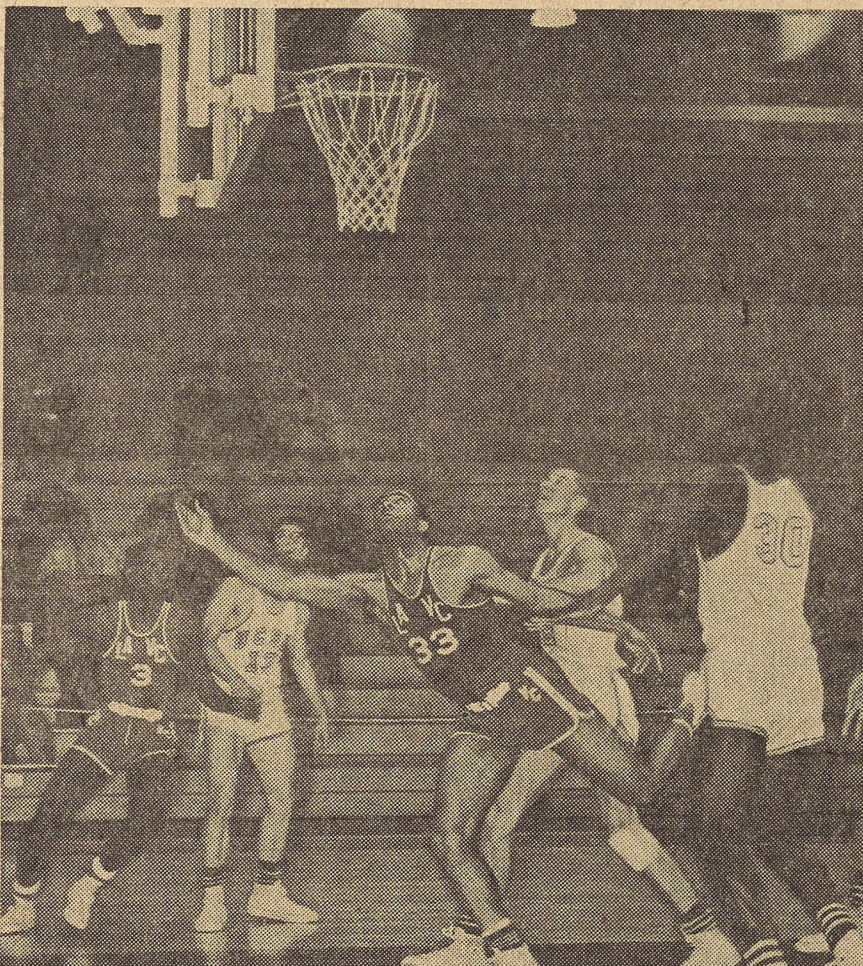

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

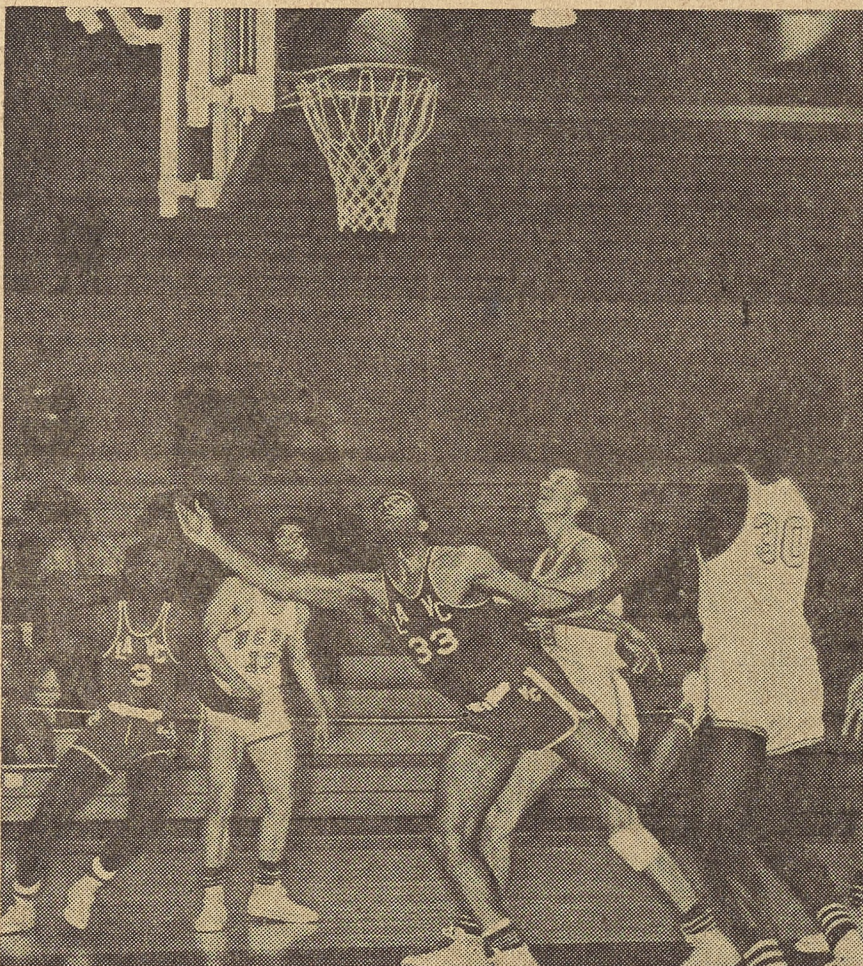

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

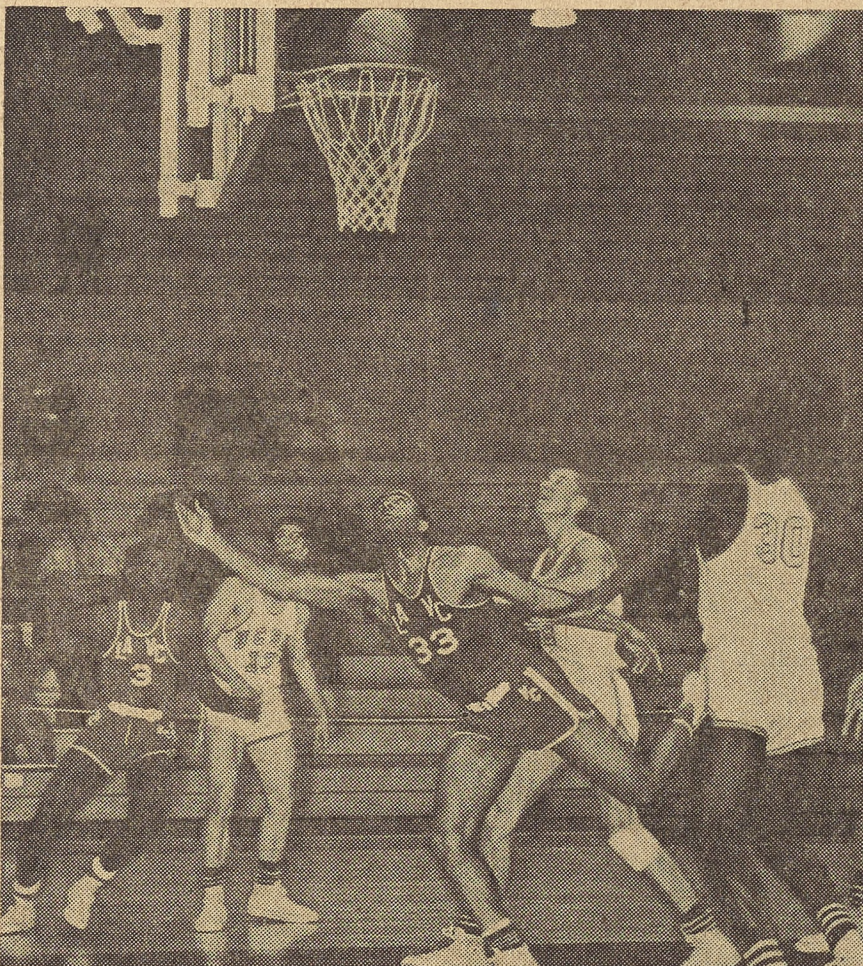

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

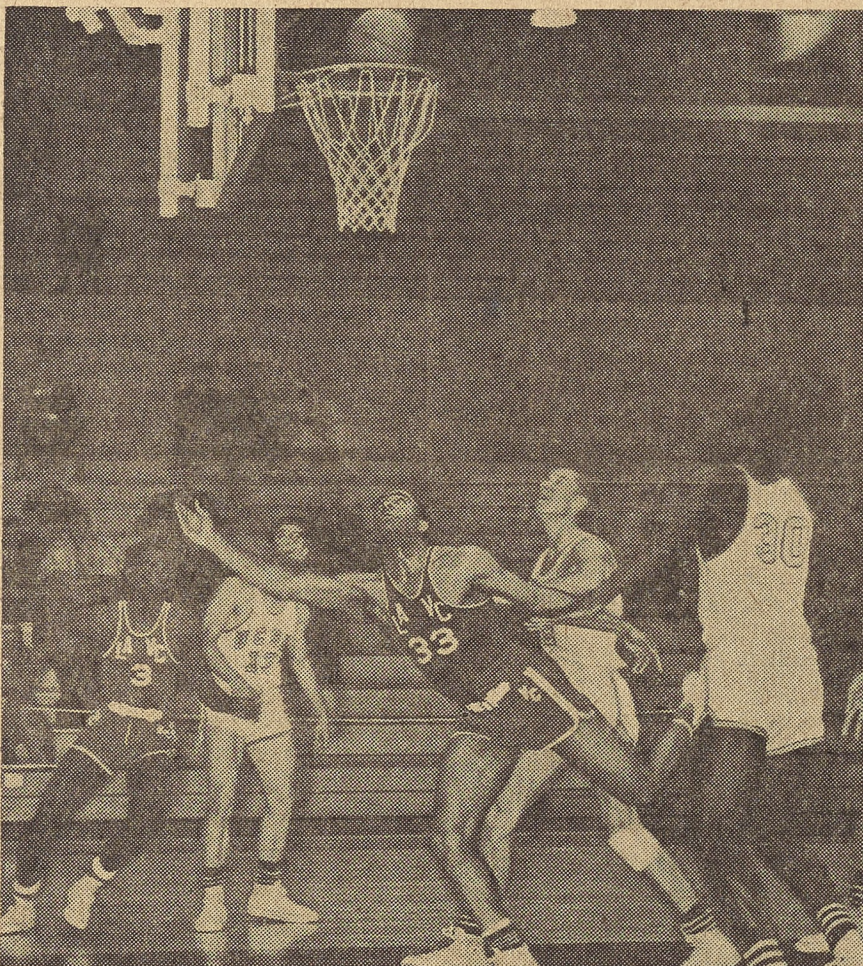

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

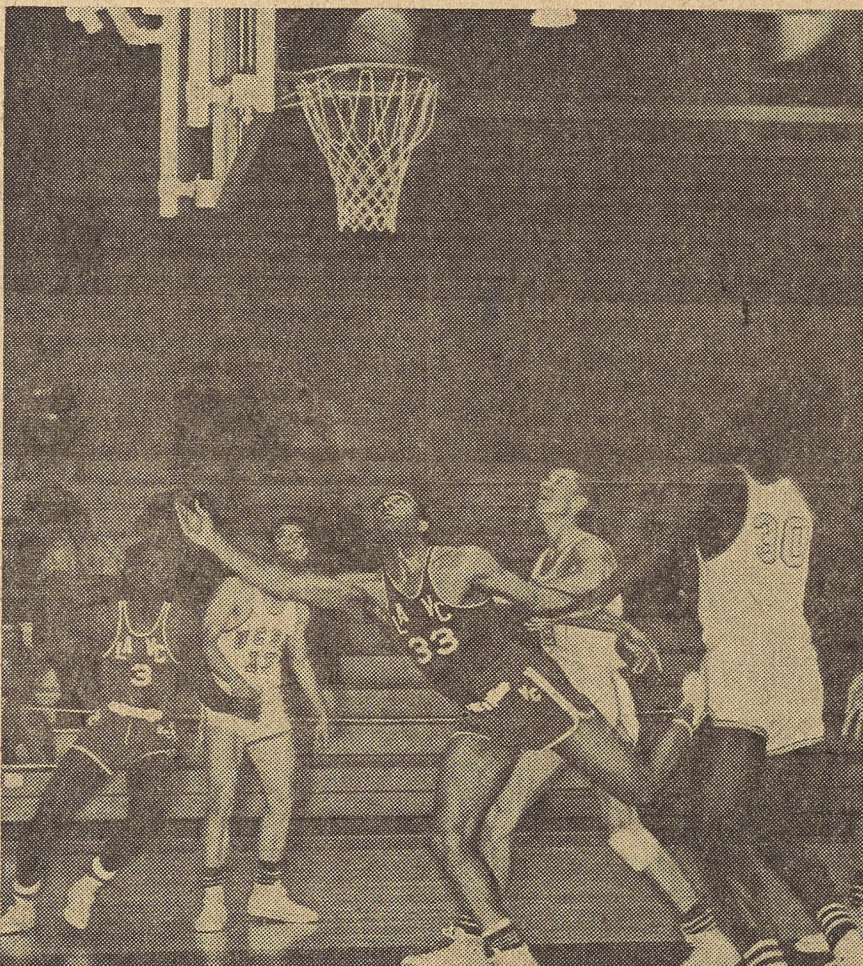

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

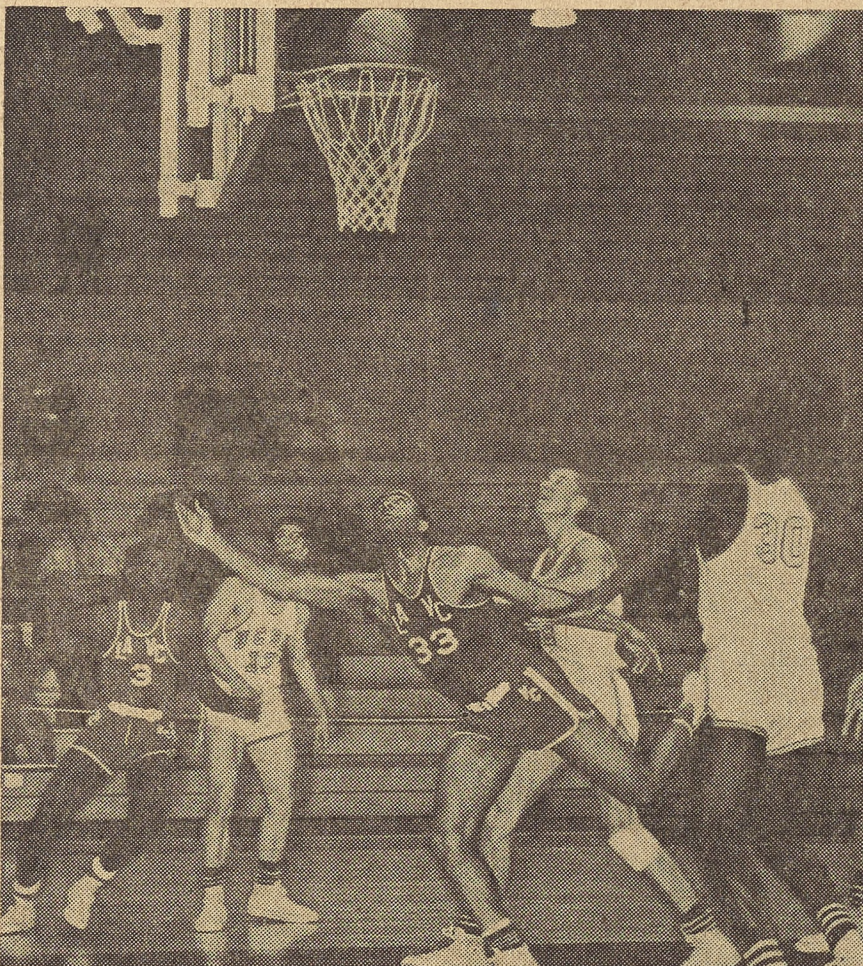

Mann is hopeful about both matches and stated, "Bakersfield always has a good team, and the outcome of this match should indicate whether or not we can repeat as conference titlist."

Making up the nucleus of this team are returning lettermen Rich Carr, Greg Cooper and Russ Widmar. Backing them up are first-year men Corky Bassler, Bob Beaudry, Larry LeVine, Ross Manarchy and Bob Peter.

In their first encounter with Bakersfield, Steve Jennings and Cary Smith poured in 57 points in pacing the victory. The Monarchs had to rally in the second half to overcome a 10-point deficit, 44-34, at halftime. Bill Winston paced Bakersfield's well-balanced attack with 16 points.

Cerritos, one of four teams tied for third with 3-4 records, will host the Monarchs on Tuesday, Feb. 15. Playing at Cerritos, Valley will try to end another long home court dynasty. Valley has never defeated Cerritos on their court since the Falcons entered the league three years ago.

Strong Game
The Falcons played a strong game at Valley, losing by only eight points, 91-83. Smith and Jennings again were the big guns for the Monarchs with 29 and 22 points. The Falcons possess a well-balanced attack led by Rich Brown, Dean Duistermars and Larry Crowell.

AN UNDERHANDED SHOOTER—Valley cage ace Cary Smith makes two with an underhand shot during the UCSB game. Smith had a total of 17 points. Other Lion cager is Henry Exum (3). Santa Barbara players are Jim Finnerty (13), Andy Clark (behind Smith) and Leroy Jackson (30).

—Valley Star Photo by Don Langford

Teemen Defend Conference Title

Preparation to defend the conference title. Coach Charles Mann's golf team will open the 1966 season in a practice match against Ventura College tomorrow and a league match against Bakersfield College Monday, Feb. 14.

Both matches will be held at the Monarch's home course, Encino Golf Course.

Freshman Talent Adds Power To Monarch Cinder Squad

This is the first in a series of two articles concerning this year's track team, which starts its season Feb. 15.

By SY ORNSTEIN
Staff Writer

A storm of freshman talent, around 100 men, have flocked to Valley College with the same thought in mind. They are all seeking berths on the always powerful Monarch track squad.

An overall picture of the 1966 team finds head Coach George Ker and assistant coach Nick Giovannozzo pleased at the large turnout but concerned with the lack of experience. Some of the finest high school track athletes of 1965 are out for the spring sport. There is, however, only a handful of returning lettermen from last year's squad.

Although the field events are without a returning letterman, they appear to be the strongest events. All the field events, at this point in the season, look to be well stocked with promising performers.

The pole vault has four men that have done 13 feet or better this year. Martin Ybarra, a graduate of San Fernando and a third place finisher in the all-city meet last year, has already gone over 14 feet and looks like he will break Terry Cox's 1962 record of 14 feet 5 3/4 inches.

Paul Klein, "B" all-city champion from Van Nuys, and Greg Legassick also from Van Nuys, along with Poly graduate Eugene Plesh, will team up with Ybarra to give Valley its strongest field event.

Wilbur Wright will lead the high jumpers with a personal best of six feet six inches. The Belmont graduate placed third in the all-city meet last year. Mike Mitchell of Cleveland has leaped six feet three inches and Chris Pacheco of Van Nuys has jumped six feet one inch.

Long jumper Craig Newman from Monroe has a 23 foot 5 inch jump to his credit. Newman will be hard-pressed by Charles Murphy from Hamilton and Emery Holmes from Alemany. Holmes and Murphy have both jumped well over 22 feet. Newman, Murphy and Holmes along with Jackie Thompson will give their talents to the triple jump. Inexperience will handicap this event as Thompson is the only returnee from last year's team.

The field event with the greatest amount of depth is the shot put. Eric Markey of Marshall and Robert Cole of Dorsey have both thrown over 58 feet. Markey placed second in the all-city meet last year and Cole was the Southern League champion. Four men, Joe Zwiebeck of Grant, Jim Loosbrock of Poly, Bob Doran of Van Nuys and Win Tension of Dorsey, have all put over 56 feet.

Coach Ker will have his work cut out when the topic of discus throwers comes up. The Monarchs have no returning men in this event. Ker feels that he has some fine prospects from among his shot putters.

NEXT ISSUE: THE TRACK EVENTS

Lion Grapplers Host Champion Warriors

After being virtually annihilated by Bakersfield College, 53-0, Tuesday, Valley's battle-scarred but game wrestlers will take on the State champion El Camino in a home meet, tomorrow at 3:30 p.m.

Even though Valley's squad has, according to Lion coach Duane Putnam, "Made steady improvement," so have the other members of the conference.

Against the Warriors, Putnam will be looking for his hope of fine individual performances. Again he will pin his foremost chance of scoring on lightweight Joe Stein, who was decisively in the Bakersfield romp.

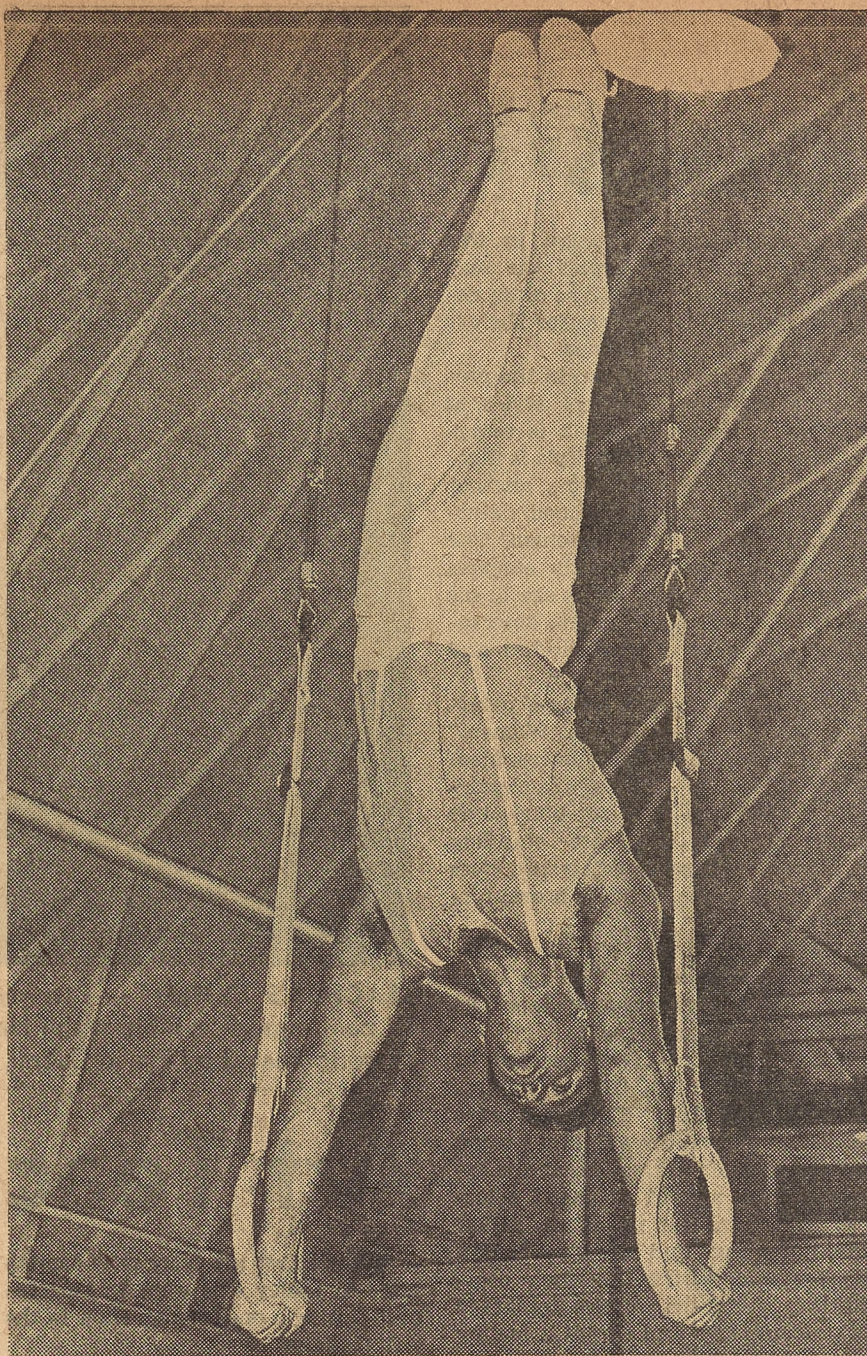

"We just are outclassed all through the conference," Putnam said in reference not only to his loss to the Renegades, but to the two up-coming matches that make up the remainder of the Metro bouts.

In the Bakersfield meet, the Valley cause wasn't helped much with the absence of three team members. The final outcome appeared inevitable in any case, with the Gades going right to work blitzing the Valley men with fierce attacks and quick pins.

Throughout the past, as in the present, this has been the secret of the Metro's "Big Three." They know the right moves and holds to make at the right time and never let up once the initiative is taken.

Putnam stated that once Valley has a chance to train men to do this, top notch grappling squads may appear on this campus also.

VALLEY GYMNAST—Sam Rozay, third in the Metropolitan Conference on the rings last season, performs a handstand on the apparatus in preparation for the first meet next Wednesday. Rozay is one of six lettermen competing on the 27-man team.

—Valley Staff Photo by Mark Geiger

Gymnasts Prepare For League Opener

By LES GOLDMAN
Staff Writer

With seven days remaining until the season opener, Lion gymnasts are deep in workouts.

Returning letterman Sam Rozay, third in conference on the rings last year, swings from a snap-rise cross, as letterman Dave Lamberte and freshman Bob Hughes chalk up. Hughes plans a routine out mentally, one which may give him Valley's top spot.

All Around

Dan Connelly, freshman from Grant, hits his routine on the parallel bars as Coach Follosco records an 8.2 for the practice performance. Recovering from a sprained ankle, Connelly looks forward to a successful season, perhaps as Valley's first man on all around. Ronny Bell, described as the man with the greatest potential, is second man on all around.

Freshman Ray Zekka, first on the trampoline and possibly in the state, performs a doubleback, double flip, doubleback and works toward a triple back, his goal for the season. Pat Connors, who will add depth to the event, spots for Zekka.

Improving Freshman

Also working the trampoline is Greg Horrocks, another freshman, with whom Coach Follosco has been working closely. "Horrocks may also be the best Valley can offer in free exercise and with concentration on form and improved continuity, could reach as high as 9.5 (on a scale of 10 points) for the tricks he uses in his routine," reports the coach.

Washburn on Rope

Climbing the rope is Doug Washburn, an undetermined potential, whose success rests on a bad knee. Washburn returns to competition this season after a year away from gymnastics, but recalls his '63 year when he placed first in the trampoline in the conference and third in the state. Competing in eight or nine events in that year, his goal this season is all around. As Washburn suggests, "It may be Valley one, two, three in the conference in rope climb."

With such standouts as John Darakji (3.5), Dean Anderson (3.7) and Washburn (4.0), he may be right.

Strong Event

Phil True, another freshman member, attempts a back reverse scissors on the sidehorse. When this move is perfected, True could develop into one of the top sidehorse men in the conference, Coach Follosco says.

Letterman Mel Morris, fourth last year in conference, and Dale Ma will also add depth.

With six returning lettermen, as Coach Follosco sees it, "We're going to expect a lot from the freshmen. The championship will rest in their hands, and it will be their performances which will bring success this season."

WAA Star—

'Pinky' Excels in Sports

By RHYSA DAVIS
Staff Writer

Once upon a time women in the field of athletics were considered to be masculine instead of having feminine characteristics.

But, masculinity is simply not found in Phyllis "Pinky" Thomas, who is a petite 5 foot 3 inch blonde.

"The general public has to be educated that there is a definite place for women in athletics," remarked Miss Thomas.

She continued to say that every person has to be judged on an individual basis and though some women may have some masculine features this does not necessarily make it true of everyone.

Miss Thomas, who has played softball and basketball on a double "A" and triple "A" basis, which is the highest level of competition for the non-professional athlete who enjoys sports.

Last semester Miss Thomas was captain of one of the volleyball teams. This semester she is enrolled in several physical education classes plus being the new commissioner of athletics for the college as well as an active member of the Women's Athletic Association.

While living in Arizona, she played on a team called the Tucson Ranchettes, which held the state championship for two years running.

Later, upon moving to California, she took part in a team called the Huntington Blues, which went on to one of the semi-finals in a tournament.

"Physical education is very important to each person. Doctors, nurses and other medical personnel endorse some kind of activity because it helps keep the mind and body young," she said.

A brisk walk is one of the best forms of activity, though most Americans don't like to walk because they are used to all the modern conveniences of life. Instead of walking a few blocks they will hop into the car.

MONARCH PRACTICE—Valley swimmer Kurt Krueger, who is slated to swim in the individual medley for the Lion team, works out in preparation for tomorrow's season opener with Orange Coast College.

—Valley Staff Photo by Stan Lynch

Powerful Lion Swim Team To Meet Orange Coast

Coach Maurice Wiley takes his 1966 Monarch swimming team into action for the first time this season when the Lions invade Orange Coast tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

Wiley describes this season as "the greatest chance we have had to win the state championship since 1961. We were hurt by disqualification problems in '61 and would like an opportunity to get back at Foothill."

To do the job Wiley will have some of the finest prep swimmers in the city going for him along with the backbone of last year's team.

Team Spirit High

According to Wiley, spirit on the team is very high this season. "All of the team members are very enthusiastic," he commented. "During the first week of practice they were turning in times better than those achieved at the midway point of last season."

With 25 men on the team, the Monarchs will sport the biggest squad in competition.

Rigorous Practice

Wiley has put his swimmers through a very rigorous practice schedule. Because of the size of the team he has to hold two different practices each day in order to properly coach the entire team.

According to Coach Wiley, the Monarchs' serious conference competition will come from Long Beach and Cerritos, teams he considers strong but lacking in depth.

The Monarchs' superiority in numbers assures a team that is not only strong but has the additional advantage of all-around superior depth.

Orange Coast First

Tomorrow the Lions will go into action against Orange Coast College, a team considered strong but which is down from last year. The Monarchs will have four meets before their first Metro Conference tilt against Bakersfield on March 11.

You can help change the world

Some people give up in despair, saying, "I'm only one person." But put enough people together who put their faith to work, and suddenly the world is a different—and better—place. Worship this week... put your faith to work every day.

YOUR STUDENT OR FACULTY I.D. CARD
ENTITLES YOU TO A SERVICE
DISCOUNT

AT
KLEIN-FOREMAN MOTORS

Hours—Days, 7:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.
Open until 10:00 p.m. Thursday Nites

AUTHORIZED  DEALER

KLEIN-FOREMAN MOTORS

5511 VAN NUYS BLVD. • TR. 3-1776 ST. 6-1314

For the guy who'd rather drive than fly: Chevelle SS 396

Chevelle SS 396 Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher, seat belts front and rear, one of eight features now standard for your added safety.

POTENT THE CHEVROLET WAY

This is about a Chevelle—a very special one—with a bulging hood, a black grille and red stripe nylon tires. Start it up and you've tuned in on 396 cubic inches of Turbo-Jet V8.

Get it moving and suddenly you're a driver again. With gears to shift. A clutch to work. Even a set of gauges to read, if specified.

Now take a curve, surrounded by a machine that delights in crooked roads.

This, you see, is an SS 396. A Chevelle, yes. But what a Chevelle.

All kinds of cars all in one place... at your Chevrolet dealer's CHEVROLET • CHEVELLE • CHEVY II • CORVAIR • CORVETTE

Art Show Debuts

By FRANCES HECKER
Assistant Art Editor

Recognized in "Who's Who in the West," as an outstanding artist, Flavio Cabral, associate professor of art, made a personal appearance last Monday evening at the Heritage Gallery, 724 N. La Cienega Blvd., where his paintings were previewed in a one-man show.

Cabral's paintings have been exhibited in more than 14 one-man shows throughout the United States and Mexico. He is represented in many national invitational group exhibitions including the Sao Paulo Museum in Brazil, and more than 100 of his paintings are the prized possessions of private collectors.

Art reviewers for the Times and Herald Examiner term him "brilliant," "a hit" and his work as possessing "an aura of timelessness."

Describing his own style as "contemporary classical," Cabral's present paintings show a tendency toward anti-realism or surrealism. Among the recognized greats in this field, he compares with Chirico and Dali.

The mood of aloofness in Cabral's paintings may also be seen in Chirico's better works. And Dali's meticulous care of minute details compares in execution with Cabral's excellence in craftsmanship, although in this comparison, Cabral avoids the ugly gruesomeness which Dali so often depicts. Cabral strives more for the overall effect of his paintings.

The 25 paintings shown in the preview reflect three distinct styles of the artists; however, each is recognizable "a Cabral." One style is illustrated by austere landscapes, another by the highly stylized, mood paintings of graceful buxom women. The last style which seemingly emerges from the two former styles are in his most recent work of faceless abstractions composed of arcs, arches and circles.

One of his most handsome paintings entitled "Three Classic Women," is of three women with austere, aloof expressions. Their bodies are classically draped in a pale soft blue-green material, and they are standing against a background of stylized trees creating a dense green and brown forest.

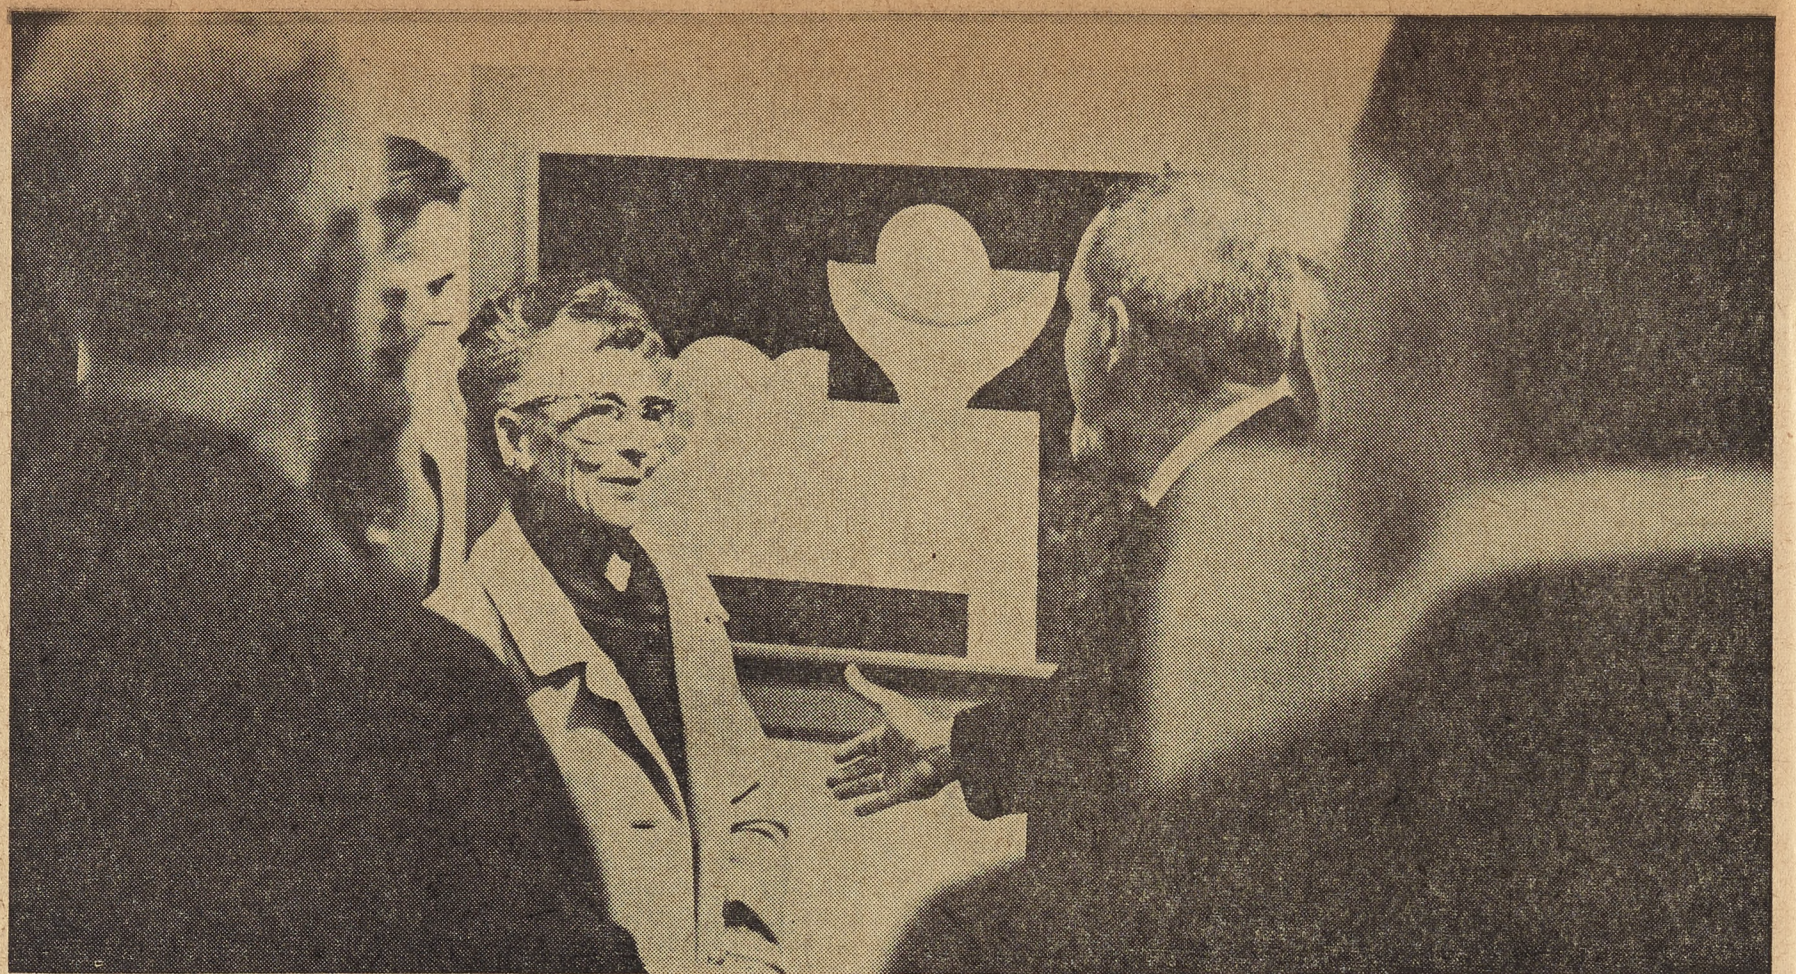

Most of the works exhibited range in size from two feet high by three feet wide to approximately four feet high by five or six feet wide.

The larger size is represented by the painting titled, "Three Figures and Three Arches." This impressive piece of work captures Cabral's trend toward abstract surrealism and is executed in a myriad of pastel colors ranging from the palest of yellow through orange and soft blue. Yellow predominates giving the whole composition of faceless nudes composed of graceful arcs and circles a feeling of being bathed in sunlight.

On the Valley campus for the past nine years, Cabral has taught drawing and painting for many semesters and at present is teaching art history classes. He also has five permanent panels of his work hanging in the Cafeteria.

Born in New York City, Cabral has lived in Los Angeles since 1936. He received his B.A. in art education and his M.A. in painting from Los Angeles State College.

The beauty of the paintings, the excellence of craftsmanship and, above all, the mind and sensitivity that created them—all make Cabral's one-man show an event not to be missed.

TEACHER'S EXHIBIT—Patron's of art view a still life, one of the 25 paintings on exhibit at the Heritage Galleries, in a one-man show of work created by Flavio Cabral, associate professor of art, who also displays paintings in Valley's Cafeteria. Internationally recognized for his paintings, Cabral is also represented in the archives of the Sao Paulo Museum, Brazil.

—Valley Star Photo by Joel Lueavere

Art Teacher Honored at Reception

Valley's first art teacher is coming back to Valley this week to be honored during a one-woman show in the Art Gallery.

Marie Scott taught here from 1949 to 1964 and was honored at a reception presented by the faculty of the Art Department yesterday afternoon. This is the first time such an honor has been given to a retired teacher.

The reception opened with the exhibit of Miss Scott's work of the past three years. Included in the show are 35 oils, eight water colors and one mosaic. Also shown are silk screen and monolith prints.

Wins Awards

Graduated from UCLA in 1935 and graduate work at Columbia University, Loyola University and the University of Hawaii, Miss Scott has taught in junior and senior high schools as well as Valley. Her work has been exhibited at various shows throughout California, notably the California State Fair and the Los Angeles County Fair, the Southern California Watercolor Society, Gumps of San Francisco and a one-man show of watercolors at the Third Street Gallery. For her watercolors she has been awarded prizes from the Watercolor Exhibit of the Ebell Club and the Exhibit of Southern California Watercolor Society.

William Trierweiler, assistant professor of art, regarding Miss Scott's work, said, "Here is splendid color and paint quality. She uses her materials with control. Miss Scott employs a superb and varied palate of colors in all her work."

"She paints as she feels and sees the subject. Nothing obscure... she paints as it is. The work here presented is not controversial in content, but instead shows the themes of nature—the sea, plants, still-life and landscapes in serenity. Her work is pleasing to the eye and shows the gentle quality of the artist."

Many of Miss Scott's former students are in commercial art fields now. Prof. Trierweiler said, "Her students did fine work, and that is the test of any art teacher."

As a teacher here, she held classes in the old bungalows, before the new building was built. In fact, added Prof. Trierweiler, "The new Art Building was completed the same year that she retired."

Favorite Painting

When viewing the gallery last week, Miss Scott pointed out her favorite works. One, "The Backyard Tree," is a large oil painting. Another is a landscape of a Norwegian village. One of her most favorite paintings is an oil abstract called "Indian Winter."

The paintings are available for sale and may be viewed by the public without charge. Gallery hours are noon until 3 p.m. and 6:30 until 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday evenings. The exhibit will continue through Feb. 24.

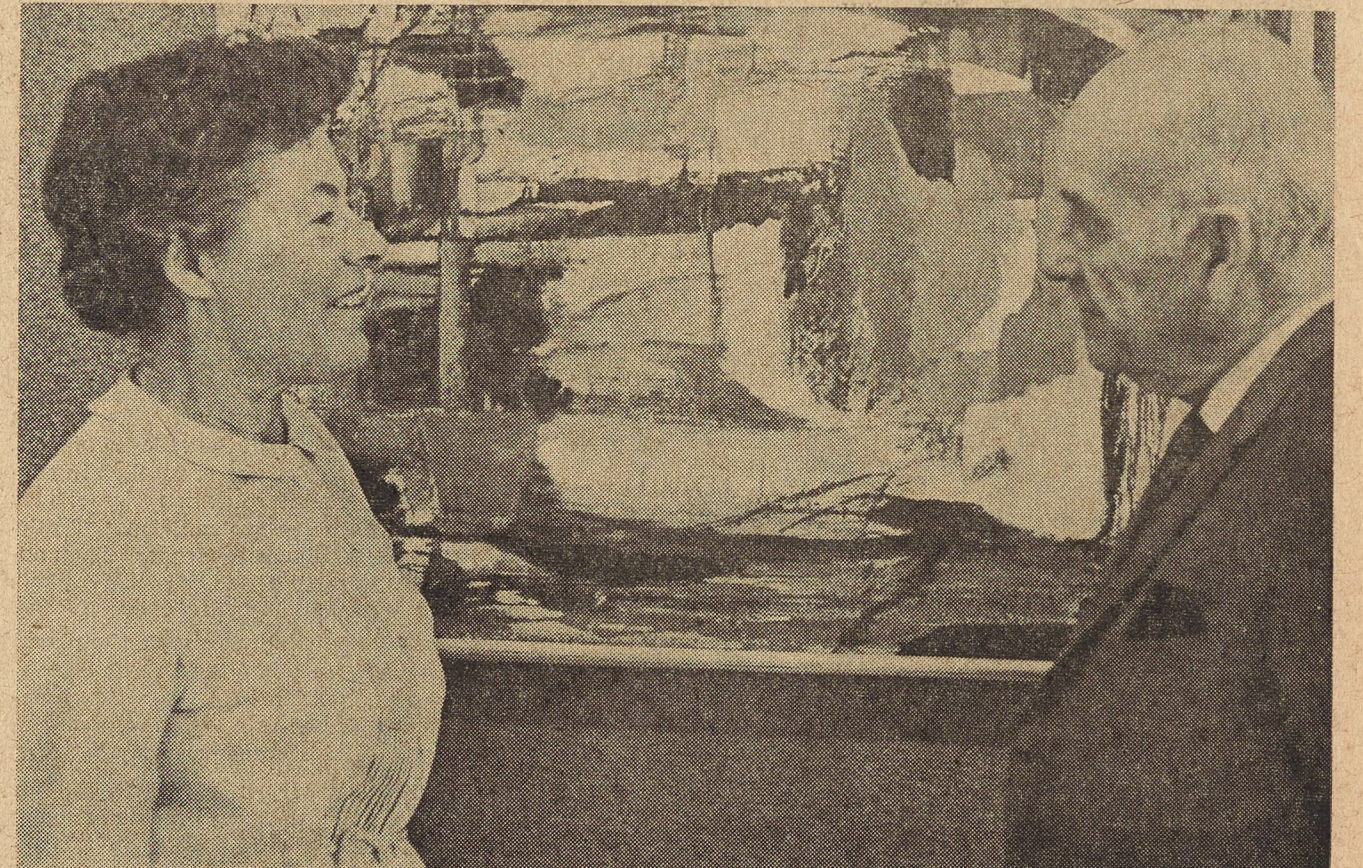

Activities Start

(Continued from pg. 3, col. 7)

grade average and an "A" in a foreign language.

MICROWAVES invites all those interested in broadcasting and related subjects to attend their first meeting of the semester in H114. This meeting will be conducted with the VETERANS CLUB in order to plan for club day.

Valley's Alpha Theta Chapter of BETA PHI GAMMA, Journalism honor society, is planning a luau with the Beta Alpha Chapter of Los Angeles City College.

MISS MARIE SCOTT, former instructor at Valley, discusses one of her art works with a friend at an art reception held in her honor. The reception was given by the faculty of the Art Department. The above painting is one of 43 featured at her exhibit.

—Valley Star Photo by Ron Donath

KGIL Donates Free Air Time to Valley

KGIL, the second largest radio station in Los Angeles, donates free air time to the Valley area colleges every evening from 10 to 10:30 on the Chuck Snodgrass program.

The show, which is broadcast live, plays popular music and interviews personalities in between the records.

The program serves three colleges—Valley, Valley State and Pierce—and has a public relation department at the schools to receive all releases of upcoming school events in order to have them announced over the air.

Beside having Valley's announcements read over the air, there is a representative at the station.

Hartley Beaver, speech major, interviews guests on the air each Tuesday evening. He has arranged to have prominent students from the campus speak on the show.

Some of the Valley students he has asked to speak in the near future are Ned Sutro, A.S. president; Lydia Broder, A.S. vice-president; Robert Rivera, associate professor of speech and theater arts; John Henrick, president of the Young Republicans; and Barbara O'Connor, commissioner of student activities and many others.

Clubs on campus interested in announcing their events on the air are requested to see either Lynda Abrahms, public relations director, or Beaver.

A ONE-MAN SHOW—Critics and art lovers find Cabral's one-man show an event to remember. His contemporary classics are attracting much acclaim and may be seen at the Heritage Gallery, 724 N. La Cienega Blvd., through Feb. 25.

—Valley Star Photo by Ron Donath

Club Tours Studio

Student Collegiate Players Learn Dream World Life

By JOEL GESSIN
Staff Writer

Twenty-five people "gawk" at the actors, production sets and cameras as they guide them on a tour of the movie studio.

Some wave a big "hello" to Ernest Borgnine as they pass by the "McHale's Navy" set, or to David Janssen of the "Fugitive" or to others with whom they have worked.

Elaborate Sets

Others merely gaze with awe at the elaborate sets and at the amount of work and people that are so intricately involved with the production of a TV series.

But all gaze hopefully at the big, steel camera as it zooms in on the actors for a close-up or dollies out for a "pan" shot—all wishing that some day they could be on the other end of the camera, staring into the lens, as the director yells, "Quiet on the set! Ready? Lights!... Camera!... Action!"

For these are the members of the Valley Collegiate Players on one of their many excursions. A recent field trip of theirs took them to the Melodyland Theatre to see pantomimist Marcel Marceau.

Trophy Winner To Direct Play

The winning director of the Judges' Trophy and the outstanding award of the Theater Arts Department will direct this semester's first program.

Charles Donald Robinson will begin this season's presentations with "The Lovers." The play is scheduled to open Thursday, Feb. 17, and play for two performances at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m.

The cast for the play, written by Harold Pinter, includes Tony Lawrence as Richard, Sharon Soderstrom as the wife and Rachael Silverman as the milkmaid. Directing the stage crew will be Norman Stephen, stage manager. Harry D. Parkin III is the lighting director with set design by Robinson.

Admission to the play is free to students holding ID cards. It will be presented in TA101.

This will be Robinson's third one-act play since September. His previous directing project, "Hughie," presented at the close of last semester, won the highest award given by the Theater Arts Department at its semi-annual banquet last Thursday evening.

VCP, according to Nick Smirnoff, is an honorary dramatic society whose "function is to promote enthusiasm within the performing arts."

Exclusive Group

An exclusive organization, VCP is one of only six junior college dramatic societies in the country, their nearest neighbors being located in Washington and Arizona.

Adding to its exclusiveness, the 8-year-old club, twice honored as the "best club" on Valley's campus, has a restricted membership policy.

With all other clubs on campus it is simply necessary for a person to attend meetings and to pay his dues if he wishes to join.

Parental Auspices

But because VCP is an honorary society under the auspices of a parent organization, the National Collegiate Players, application standards are more stringent.

This national foundation composed of 50 four-year university chapters, has devised a system by which prospective members may earn the prescribed amount of points necessary for membership.

The system, similar to the one used by the Thespians, an honorary high school dramatic society, uses 10 points as the minimum number and allows applicants to earn them both for technical work and for acting.

It doesn't, however, allow all 10 points to be garnered from the same category and requires that at least two points be earned from each one.

The number of points allotted to a person connected with a play is arbitrarily left to the discretion of the drama instructor, but is based on the amount of work a person does and its importance.

Write a Play

The largest amount of points a person can receive for a single effort is by writing a play that is produced.

Although writing a play might be thought of as something that only a professional writer with years of experience would attempt and be considered a rarity among students,

Valley will have had, amazingly enough, produced three within the last year.

Two Plays

Two of them, in fact, were written by the same person, Barry Gains. The first, "Mr. Caution," was produced three semesters ago and had its sequel, "Mr. Caution in Hollywood," a modern-dance pantomime, performed two semesters ago in the Experimental Theater.

The third play, also produced two semesters ago, was "The Janitor" by Neil Yarema.

As with any club, it is people—not ideals—that make it successful, and VCP has its share of talented people.

VCP's 21-year-old Smirnoff is a typical example with more than 70 commercials to his film credit and three features. Smirnoff recently finished playing in a 102-minute film titled "Never Steal Anything Wet," which starred ex-Mouseketeer Tommy Kirk.

Other VCP members also spend much of their time on the Universal Studio lot in technical capacities.

"Torn Curtain," a Hitchcock movie starring Julie Andrews and Paul Newman, and "Beau Geste," a third-time remake, are just two movies that Barry Gains, Pete Parkin, Peter Deyell and Lee De Broux are connected with.

Other VCP members have worked on "McHale's Navy," "Run for Your Life," and "The Fugitive."

Past VCP members who have made the theatre their careers include director Robert Totom and debutante Beverly Lunsford, who stars in the soon-to-be-released movie "Tender Grass."

'Gidget' a Member

Jill St. John and Sally Field (star of TV's "Gidget") are also past members of Valley College's Theater Arts Department, although not VCP members.

And time marches on—some become successful actors or actresses, some don't—but all Valley Collegiate Players dream of the day when the director will bellow at them, "Lights!... Camera!... Action!" However, only the future knows for sure—and time marches on.

Photo Contest Open to LAVC

A photography contest is being conducted by Scabo-Ritus, which is open to all college students. Entries should depict the spirit of Valley College and should be placed in the Scabo-Ritus mail box in B25 no later than 4 p.m., Feb. 16.

All entries will be on display during club day and will be judged at that time by Dean of Students Samuel Alexander and Mrs. Lynda Abrahms, public relations director. The student submitting the winning entry will be awarded a plaque.

There is no limit to the number of entries. However, all photographs must have been taken on campus at a college sponsored activity or athletic event.

PICKWICK BOOKSHOPS

EXTREMELY LARGE STOCK
Evenings 'til 10
6743 Hollywood Blvd.,
HO. 9-8191 • CR. 5-8191
Topanga Plaza, Canoga Park
Phone 383-8191

BARREL APPAREL FOR MEN
NORTH HOLLYWOOD, CALIF.

12855 Victory Blvd.

RENT FROM $5.00 PER MONTH
VALLEY PIANO COMPANY • TH 8-0222
SALES AND SERVICE • 933 W. OLIVE AVE., BURBANK

"Let me sell you a new or used Volkswagen or Porsche"

Special consideration is given to all Valley students

Jeff Dewey
V.C.

Call for an appointment
HO 2-6861 or HO 4-9288

BOB SMITH VOLKSWAGEN AND PORSCHE
1750 N. Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood 28